The Centre Reporter.

VOL. LXXXIII. CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1910. NO. 36.

CAMP OPENS SATURDAY.

Tenters Move into Canvas Homes to Remain Over Sunday.

Saturday was a busy day on Grange Park. Exhibits, both large and small, were placed by exhibitors, and a large number of people moved into their canvas homes to remain over Sunday and throughout the week. There were many more tents occupied on Saturday and over Sunday than at any previous time. Tenters came early in the morning and late at night, but they were all fixed up in their tempofary homes when Sunday came, and were ready to enjoy the experiences of tent life on Grange Park—an experience not new to all.

In the evening, John G. Scorer, lecturer and entertainer, furnished entertainment in the auditorium.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rain on Saturday night made the camp dreary to some extent on Sunday morning. In the afternoon religious services were held in the auditorium conducted by Dr. W. H. Schuyler, whose text for the occasion was the "Old Testament Farmers." It is a customary usage of the members of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry to celebrate this important event in symbolism of the "Feast of the Harvest," celebrated annually by the chosen people of Israel, in the autumn season of the year. The music was conducted by Prof. P. H. Meyer, the singers having been selected from among the local talent. Miss Bertha Strohmeier was the pianist.

The Philadelphia Record.

There are three essential elements, according to "The Philadelphia Record," that make for success in a modern newspaper: First, it must print all the news, with an eye to the interests of all types of readers, in attractive and entertaining form. Second, whatever political cause it may editorially espouse, it must be fair, free of outside dictation and sincere in advocating the policies it believes to be best for the general welfare. Third, it must be clean, wholesome and elevating in its influence.

"The Record" itself possesses all these elements of success, and then some. Independently Democratic in politics, it is as nearly nonpartisan as a newspaper can be in its columns, which fully and accurately cover the entire field tributary to Philadelphia.

"The Philadelphia Record" has another element of news value that is of particular interest to the women of the family. The store news is generally of secondary importance in their eyes only to the chronicle of the world's doings. "The Record," it is worth noting, prints more department store advertising than any other newspaper in Philadelphia.

Transfers of Real Estate.

Mary P. Faust, et bar to J. K. Moyer, April 1, 1895, tract of land in Miles twp. $350.

H. A. Detwiler, et ux to J. K. Moyer, Apr. 21, 1900, tract of land in Miles twp. $300.

Mary A. Hillbish, et al to J. K. Moyer, October 2, 1885 in Miles twp. $252.

W. B. Bingman, et ux to Harry Detwiler, November 26, 1894, in Miles township. $310.

Joseph Gramley, exrs., to J. K. Moyer, July 25, 1907, tract of land in Miles twp. $370.

George Peters, et ux to J. K. Moyer, September 1, 1892, in Miles twp. $600.

Ellie Loose, et al to J. K. Moyer, March 31, 1908, tract of land in Miles twp. $205.

J. A. Gramley, et ux to J. K. Moyer, December 1, 1886, tract of land in Miles twp. $2005.

Ira C. Homan, et ux to Theodore D. Boal, August 17, 1910, tract of land in College twp. $3500.

J. W. Snook, et al to J. K. Moyer, February 15, 1884, tract of land in Miles twp. $200.

Jennie K. Reifsnyder, et al to F. H. Hackenberg, March 22, 1906, tract of land in Penn twp. $216.

Molley Frasher to J. K. Moyer, August 2, 1884, tract of land in Miles twp. $805.

E. H. Woolridge, sheriff to J. F. Dugan, et al in Centre and Clearfield county, May 9, 1910, tract of land. $7995.

Isaac Beck, et al to A. W. Baird, February 19, 1910, tract of land in Rush twp. $300.

J. B. Irish, et al atty in fact to John Glowatz, March 17, 1908, tract of land in Rush twp. $232.18.

N. H. Yearick, et ux to L. M. Tobias, September 1, 1910, tract of land in Howard twp. $1800.

W. J. Carlin, admr. to G. E. Wise, June 10, 1910, tract of land in Miles twp. $1010.

W. F. Foster, et al to G. H. Keller, June 5, 1910, tract of land in State College. $1235.

G. C. Williams to C. M. Williams, September 1, 1910, tract of land in College twp. $1.

Stuart-Mothersbaugh.

The greatest social event of the season at Boalsburg was the marriage of Miss Margaret Sheneberger Mothersbaugh, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Mothersbaugh, and Reuben Russell Stuart, of Bellevue, youngest son of Mrs. J. T. Stuart, of Bellevue. The parlor was profusely decorated with golden rod and bouquets of white asters and golden glow. Miss Rose Woods played Lohengrin's beautiful wedding march, as the bridal party entered the parlor. The groom was attended by his brother, George Stuart, and both wore the conventional black. They were followed by Miss Mary Mothersbaugh, of Beech Creek, as maid of honor, who wore a yellow silk dress covered with white net, and carried a bouquet of yellow crysanthemums; next were Mary and Rachel Mothersbaugh, of Williamsport, nieces of the bride, who were beautifully dressed in white, with yellow sashes, and carried a basket of white and yellow flowers, then came the bride and her father, the bride being attired in a white lace dress, over silk, and wore a veil, festooned with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Rev. A. A. Black, of Derry, formerly pastor of the Reformed church at Boalsburg, pronounced the words which united them in holy wedlock, using the ring ceremony. After the ceremony congratulations were extended after which a most elaborate wedding collation was spread for the guests, who numbered about one hundred and twenty-five.

Among the guests from a distance were: Mrs. Emma Stuart, of Bellevue, mother of the groom; Miss Amanda Mothersbaugh, of Pittsburg, an aunt of the bride; Mrs. Sarah Hartswick, also an aunt of the bride, and her daughter, Miss Edith, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keller, of Warren, Illinois, great uncle and great aunt of the bride; Mrs. Ida Irvin and D. K. Mothersbaugh and family, of Williamsport. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Keller, aged eighty-six years, was the oldest person present, and Mrs. Keller's great grandson, Leonidas Mothersbaugh, aged three months, the youngest of the guests.

The presents received were numerous and costly. After enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Mothersbaugh and recording their names in the wedding book, the guests took their departure for their homes, and the bride and groom took the evening train for a short wedding trip to Philadelphia and other places of note, after which they will be at home at Bellevue, where the groom is engaged in business.

The best wishes of their friends in this community, which was the home of the groom prior to locating in Bellevue, go with the young couple.

***

Democrats Name Stewart.

The conferees representing the Democratic county committees of Centre and Clearfield counties met in Clearfield Wednesday evening of last week and selected Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, a Clearfield physician, as the candidate of the Democratic party for state senator in this district to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George M. Dimeling.

Dr. S. C. Stewart, the Democratic nominee for Senator in the 34th Senatorial District, is a native of Bradford township, Clearfield county. He was born fifty-four years ago and comes from good Scotch-Irish Presbyterian stock, he was brought up on a farm and received his early education in the schools of Bradford township and of Curwensville borough, where Dr. Gregory was one of his teachers. Later he was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, at that time being twenty-four years of age. Since that time he has been practicing his profession, and is recognized as one of the most able and successful medical men in the county. Previous to his graduation in medicine he taught four terms in the public schools of this state, two terms in Clearfield county and two in Lancaster county. Dr. Stewart is not only prominent in his profession, being County Medical Inspector, and one of the promoters of the Clearfield Hospital, but he has always been recognized as a progressive and public spirited citizen, having served three terms as burgess, and is now serving as school director of Clearfield borough. He is interested in forestry, good roads, preservation of the purity of the streams, agriculture, in fact, he has always been interested in anything that tends to promote the welfare of the public. He is eminently fitted to fill the office to which he aspires. If elected the people may rest assured that their interests will be well cared for. Dr. Stewart has always been a Democrat and is well known in both Clearfield and Centre counties.

Centre Reporter, $1 a year.

THE CENTRE HALL LECTURE COURSE.

The Appearance of Attractions—Dates for Opening of Chart.

The first number of the Centre Hall Lecture Course will appear Saturday evening, October 29, in Grange Arcadia. The other numbers will follow, one each month with December ommitted, until the five have appeared. The attractions with the dates on which they will appear follow:

Saturday, October 29—The Hearon Sisters Concert Company. This company consists of four ladies, sisters as the title indicates: Winifred, cornet and reader; Anna, accompanist and mandolin; Charlotte, clarinet and guitar; Frances, violinist. Each member is an artist doing individual work of high order, and their ensemble work is unexcelled.

Wednesday, November 30—Byron C. Piatt, lecturer, subject: "The Mass Against the Man."

Friday, January 6—The Orphean Musical Club. The Club is composed of four gentlemen: A. H. Richardson, first tenor, cartoonist and trombone; E. H. Dennis, second tenor, manager and melophone; E. W. Crumbaker, baritone, accompanist, impersonator and cornet; V. F. Henry, basso, musical director, and baritone horn.

Thursday, February 9—Dr. Frederick E. Hopkins, of Chicago, lecturer, subject, "The Golden Fleece." Dr. Hopkins is a brilliant, magnetic and charming speaker, an orator, an entertainer, and an educator.

Saturday, March 8—Lincoln McConnell, lecturer, subject: "The Blue Coat and the Red Flag." He is a natural wit and humorist, and without the slightest straining after it, gets into instant touch with his audience and they laugh or cry as he wills, though they laugh more than they cry, for he says the world has enough to cry over without his adding to it.

As has been previously announced course tickets for these five attractions will be sold for one dollar; single reserved seat tickets for each attraction, thirty cents; general admission, twenty cents.

Those who held course tickets for the past season, will have the privilege to retain their seats for the present course by paying one dollar to the secretary, Rev. S. A. Snyder, on or before October 1st.

Monday, October 3rd, the chart will be at Kreamer's store, where course tickets will be sold and seats may be selected.

Single reserved seat tickets will be sold during the week prior to each entertainment and general admission tickets will be sold at the door only.

In no case will orders for tickets be honored unless the money accompanies the same. This is done so there will be no need of bookkeeping.

COMMITTEE

Paris Fashions for Americans.

The American woman has now reached the pass where she never buys her outfit for the season without first being sure what Paris has decided upon as the fashionable thing.

Following its usual custom, inaugurated several years ago, The North American will, on Sunday, September 18, issue its special Paris fashion number, it being an eight-page section in connection with its regular Sunday paper.

The styles represent the very latest in Paris dressmaking art. The designs printed were chosen from the best showings of the representative makers of fashionable garments. After seeing them the woman can form her own idea and make her own choice of the American goods that are offered. She can make sure that she is getting up-to-date garments. There is always a big demand for the North American's special fashion numbers. It is advisable to order of the agent or newsdealer well in advance.

Card of Thanks.

S K. Knepley takes this method of returning thanks to his neighbors and friends, who, during the illness of his wife, so kindly aided in caring for her and also gave their assistance at the time of her funeral.

In the Delineator for October Erman J. Ridgway uses the words, "Mein Freund," spoken by the Kaiser to Mr. Roosevelt, as a text for editorials that reveal the strange personality which is shaping the magazine on broader lines each month.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

C. P. Long Company sells the best grade of coal for steam purposes.

DEATHS.

Although she had not been in good health during the past eighteen months, no one expected to read in this week's issue of the Centre Reporter the death notice of Mrs. George M. Boal, of Centre Hall. Mrs. Boal had been out driving Saturday afternoon, and up to an hour before her death, which occurred Sunday morning at 3:30, she was in good spirits and in her usual health. Death was caused by a hemorrhage of the lungs, which was preceded by coughing. In one hour from the first attack of coughing, Mrs. Boal lay a corpse. This bit of sad news spread over the town early in the morning, and made many hearts sad, as Mrs. Boal was a woman held in high esteem.

Sarah Ellen Love, for that was Mrs. Boal's maiden name, was born at Tusseyville, February 29th, 1840, making her age seventy years, six months and twelve days. She was the daughter of Judge W. W. Love and Agnes Williams. Surviving sisters are: Mrs. Agnes W. Spangler, Joliet, Illinois; Mrs. C. D. Runkle, Pittsburg. Half-sisters are: Mrs. Elmer Campbell, Linden Hall; Mrs. Z. P. Krise, Pittston; and H. W. Love, Wilkinsburg, is a half-brother.

Her marriage to Capt. George M. Boal took place February 19th, 1863. They lived continuously on the Boal farm, at Manor Hill, until about twelve years ago, when they moved to Centre Hall.

The surviving children are: Martha, wife of D. A. Boozer, Centre Hall; Mary, wife of C. H. Meyer, Reedsville; Margaret, wife of C. W. Slack, Farmers Mills; Blanche, wife of Dr. W. E. Park, New Milford; Mabelle, wife of W. Gross Mingle, Centre Hall.

During her girlhood days, Mrs. Boal became a member of the Presbyterian church, and continued such throughout her life. Interment was made at Centre Hall, Wednesday morning, Dr. W. H. Schuyler, her pastor, officiating.

Mrs. S. K. Knepley died at her home in Centre Hall, Wednesday of last week, after an illness of some months. Interment was made at Centre Hall on Saturday, services having been held at the house by Rev. S. A. Snyder, pastor of the United Evangelical church, of which church the deceased was a member.

The deceased's maiden name was Rosannah Salome Evans, and she was the daughter of W. B. Evans, and born in Union county, August 7th, 1840, making her age seventy years and one month. Besides her husband, three sisters survive, namely, Mrs. Annie Shipley, Detroit, Michigan; Mrs. Mahala Mushno, Collomsville; Mrs. Sarah Kennelly, Spring Mills. The latter two attended the funeral.

Mrs. Rebecca Woodling, wife of Christian Woodling, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Confer, at Millmont, of diseases incident to old age. Her age was seventy-four years, seven months and nine days. She leaves to survive her husband, and one son, John, in South America, and one daughter, Mrs. H. F. Confer, of Millmont. Also the following brothers and sisters: Adam P. Maize, W. S. Maize, and J. H. Maize, of Millheim; Mrs. Catharine Mowery, of Hublersburg, and Mrs. Mary Cassell, of Harrisburg. The remains were brought to Millheim for interment on Friday. Rev. W. J. Dice officiated.

Mrs. Eva Mallory, widow of John Mallory, was found dead on the floor of her bed room at her home at Smullton, Sunday morning a week. Pulmonary fever, from which she had been ailing for some time, was the cause of her death. Her age was sixty-seven years, three months and seventeen days. Funeral services were held Wednesday following, conducted by Rev. Haney, and interment was made at Madisonburg. She leaves to survive two sisters, Mrs. Anna Kern, of Madisonburg, and Mrs. Zubner, of York.

Abraham Armstrong died in Bellefonte, aged fifty-one years. He had been ill for a year or more. He was born at Pleasant Gap, but for most of the time lived in the town in which he died. A wife and three children survive. Joshua Armstrong, of Centre Hall, is a brother, the other brothers and sisters being: Frank, of Oklahoma; William and Daniel, of Kansas; Mrs. Ella Kreamer, of Rock; Mrs. Rilla Eckenroth, of Pleasant Gap. The funeral was held Sunday; interment at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Rosanna McGuire, the oldest woman in Halfmoon township, died at her home near Stormstown at the age of ninety-one years. Paralysis

(Continued on foot of next column.)

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers Correspondent Column—New Department.

Kansas City is still the aggressive hustling city which has ranked it among the foremost in the country, and a delightful place in which to live or sojourn.

As a bit of Centre county color to the scene today, we had as our guests Miss Margaret Keller and her mother.

Much more time has elapsed since my last visit to the old town than I ever dreamed would be possible. My boy Paul, eight years old, is having his first introduction to mountains among the Rockies in Colorado this summer. I mean that he, too, shall look upon old Nittany, not so imposing as Pikes, but fuller of associations to his family. Meanwhile here's to the Reporter, may it continue to report.

R. B. WOLFE.

Kansas City, Kas.

Rev. Wolf is pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, in Kansas City. The church is a beautiful edifice, and under its present pastor the congregation is one of the most active in the city.

I take pleasure in enclosing you under separate cover a copy of the report of our school for 1909-1910. Since you are interested in education, I thought you might be pleased to know what is being done in this part of the country. This report which is unique in that it tells not only what is being done, but why it is being done and how, has attracted much favorable comment from school men and from the pedagogic department of such universities as Harvard and Chicago. The credit of its conception and preparation belongs to the principal, Mr. Sandwick; the head of each department, however, is responsible for the statement of his department.

With kindest regards to yourself and the Reporter force, I am,

Sincerely yours,

A. M. ALLISON.

Highland Park, Illinois.

Find enclosed post office money order to pay my subscription up to July, 1911.

I am employed by the Carnegie Museum, making cases and models for exhibits. I have been with the museum for over four years, and have been kept busy all the year 'round, I am now taking my vacation of two weeks which I get every year. The museum is located in Pittsburg in the $6,000,0000 library donated by Mr. Carnegie to the city of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg is a hard place for a poor working man to make a living in under the graft system, as every one in business here wants to become a millionaire. Those who have a good steady position usually come out all O. K. I must close, wishing you success.

H. W. LOVE.

Wilkinsburg, Pa.

This is the season during which stoves are coming in demand, and to all such it is recommended that they call at the business place of J. A. Reesman, in Centre Hall, who has on hand a large assortment of the latest makes of stoves. Special attention is called to the "Acorn" double heater, a new pattern just put out this season. It has all the points of excellence desired. The Red Cross stoves are well known for their superior qualities of heating and wear, and the ranges for their convenience and good baking. In the heating line Mr. Reesman handles the Oak Leaf, Garnet and Ensign, and in ranges, the Regal, National and Prize. The prices are a little lower than ever.

Dont waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened in this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

Clothing, hats, shoes, over-shoes and umbrellas for picnic. C. P. Long Co's Department Store.

[Continued from Previous Column.]

was the cause of her death. Surviving her are the following children: Michael, of Philipsburg; Jack, of Chester Hill; Mark, Mrs. Anna Hoover and Miss Rachel, at home.

Mildred Anna, aged nine months, daughter of Edward E. and Mary Meese, of Pitcairn, died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rote, at Axe Mann. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Sarah A. DeHass, widow of the late Alexander M. DeHass, aged eighty-five years, died near Beech Creek. She was born in England.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

This issue contains a special announcement concerning the Centre Hall Lecture Course.

The real estate of the late Joseph K. Moyer will be sold Saturday, on the premises, near Rebersburg, at nine o'clock.

The Bennit corn harvester is the name of a new machine George Breon has taken the agency for, and has a sample machine on hand.

Mrs. David Sowers, of Spring Mills, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Burris, in Centre Hall, and for the present expects to make her home here.

John I. Snavely, the Spring Mills ice cream manufacturer, is supplying a large quantity of cream to sutlers on Grange Park. His products are free from any mixtures used by many manufacturers.

A very large bird, supposed to be a bald eagle, has been in the vicinity of Colyer during the past few months. It only comes down from old Tussey Mountain occasionally, and was last seen by Wes. Nevil, the farmer and lumberman.

The farmers in Penns Valley were about the busiest people on earth just after the ground dried off enough so it could be stirred. Much of the seeding to wheat has already been done, and on small farms is completed. The crop was put in in a first class condition.

G. Cecil Boult, an Englishman, traveling in the interest of a publication house, was a caller last week. Mr. Boult has traveled extensively, and after seeing the states he expects to go to Mexico, which country is the only one of consequence he has not yet visited.

F. W. Zettle, Roy Zettle, Hobert Barger and William H. Matter, of Georges Valley, were callers at the Reporter office on Thursday of last week. They were much interested in the manner in which newspapers are printed, and were somewhat surprised at the complexity of the work.

W. D. Strunk, the thresherman, is suffering from an injury to his knee. Some time ago, while in Georges Valley, he struck his knee against some object and bruised the flesh, but little was thought of it, and in a short time the affair was forgotten. Last week the knee began swelling and the pain became intense.

Penns Valley is gradually becoming more and more of a dairy section for which industry it is well suited. The silo is being installed in various sections as proof of this, the most recent converts to this mode of storing feed for the dairy cow being H. Elmer Smith and Clayton Presseler, in Penn township, and A. J. Gephart, in Millheim, all of whom have built silos.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snyder, of Glen Rock, a pretty little town just below York on the Northern Central railroad, were arrivals in Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and were guests of Rev. S. A. Snyder, the gentlemen being brothers. Mr. Snyder is the ticket agent at Glen Rock. They brought with them Elston Snyder, the little son of Rev. Snyder, who spent nearly all summer in York county.

The Alexander homestead, property of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, consisting of a farm of one hundred and forty-eight acres, located west of Centre Hall, was offered at public sale by the executor, C. Alexander, of Coburn, Thursday afternoon of last week. The highest bidder was Perry W. Breon, of Centre Hall, whose last nod indicated that he was willing to pay $4925, but the bid was not thought to be enough to warrant a sale.

J. Miller Goodhart, who is one of the busiest men in Gregg township, was one of the Reporter's callers last week. He has his farm buildings almost completed, and before winter sets in hopes to have everything lined up so that he and his family will be able to live in comfort, and his farm stock well housed. The Goodhart farm buildings are located immediately north of the Pike school house, on this side of Spring Mills, on a part of the farm purchased from Mrs. Mary Ross, mother of Mrs. Goodhart.

One of the largest and most complete exhibits of farm machinery on Grange Park, this week, is that of J. H. and S. E. Weber, who are doing business at Centre Hall and Oak Hall Station. They are handling farm machinery on a large scale, and do their buying mostly in car load lots. They do not only have a large supply of machinery, but have the best to be found. The "New Idea" manure spreader, the "Syracuse" riding plow, "the Gearless" hay loader, the "Lancaster" hay rake, and all their other machinery, farm wagons and buggies have special merit.

The Centre Reporter
Centre Hall, Pa.

THOSE SUMMER ROMANCES

Sad Awakening of Man Who Asked "the Girl of His Dreams" for Her Hand.

The dark wood had become rosy and sweet. A new dawn had entered into Harkaway's vision, and it was all gloriously golden, says Harper's Weekly. Mabel, as they paced the sands on that wonderful moonlight night, had yielded to his passionate entreaties, in which he had voiced all the aspirations of his ardent nature and had spoken a soft yes to his question.

"Yes, Harold," she had murmured, with a shy glance at the moon—"yes, dear, I will be your wife."

For a long while Harkaway was silent. He feared to break the spell of the moment with ordinary human speech. So far and away beyond his real expectations had her answer been that it was difficult for him for the time being to realize that it was not all a dream, and who could tell but that the sound of his own voice would awaken him to a lonely reality? Thus they walked on for a brief period, and then summoning his courage to his aid he ventured:

"Say it again, Mabel—let the enchanting assent come once more to my devoted ears that I may know it is true!"

"Yes, Harold," she repeated—"yes, dear, I will be your wife."

He folded her in his arms, and a kindly cloud obscured the moon for a second, as though to hide her blushes.

"Tomorrow I shall go to New York," he cried, his heart elate. "What is your father's address, sweetheart?"

"Father?" she repeated. "Oh—father's address—why, it is steen-hundred and two Wall street. What do you want daddy's address for, dear?"

"I am going to ask him to smile upon our—" he began.

"Oh, no, Harold," she remonstrated. "I wouldn't do that. Dad's very busy, and we never bother him with little things."

"Little things?" he cried.

"Yes, dear. They annoy him very much, indeed," she replied. "I don't think I'm engaged to a single man now who's been to see popper—it makes him so mad when the fall comes and I break it off."

Motor Omnibus Useful in War.

The great army maneuvers this year will, as usual, possess many new and interesting departures affecting modern warfare. Among other innovations it is this year anticipated that motor omnibuses will play a very great part in the maneuvers.

Each motor omnibus will be provided with room for 50 soldiers, and possess a speed of about 25 kilometers an hour. This experiment was tried with a small portion of troops last autumn in Germany, and was found to work spendidly, the men being conveyed to the desired positions far quicker than if they had marched on foot, in addition to reaching their destination much fresher and readier for the work before them.

This year when a long march is taking place it is intended to use the motor buses in conjunction with foot marches. The buses will convey a portion of the troops ahead, drop them at a certain point, whence they will continue their march refreshed with the rest and the drive, and the buses will return to the main body for another load of soldiers, who will in turn be conveyed to the now advance guard.

The Flags of France.

From the time of Henry IV., 1589 to 1794, a white flag was the standard of the French monarchy. It consisted of a white field bearing three fleurs-de-lis in gold. This was the flag of France at the time of the conquest of Canada by the British. In 1794, during the Revolution, the tri-color of three vertical divisions, blue, red, and white, was adopted. This was also the standard of the empire under the two Napoleons, but it was powdered with golden bees and on the center stripe was the eagle of the empire. The tri-color is the flag of the republic at the present time.

Students Find Relics 700 Years Old.

Skeletons and skulls of centuries ago are being exhumed near the mouths of the Topango and Temescal canyons in California by geological students from Stanford university. For years tides have been washing away an occasional relic of former life on this coast, but the Stanford students have followed the lead and dug further back from the shore. The search has also been rewarded by the exhuming of stone implements of husbandry and warfare. The explorers believe the remains are about 700 years old.

A Benefit.

"Has that muzzle worried your dog any?"

"No," replied the man who likes animals. "On the contrary, I think he has improved in both health and disposition since it become more difficult for my wife and daughters to feed him candy and salads."

Literary Note.

"What is the moral of William de Morgan's novels?"

"Don't write fiction till you're old enough to know how."

MANY DEAD IN DISASTER

Twenty-Nine Go Down With Car Ferry

THIRTY-FIVE ARE RESCUED

One Woman and a Passenger Are Among the Victims.

AID WAS SUMMONED BY WIRELESS.

Pere Marquette Car Ferry, No. 18, Lost In the Middle of Lake Michigan—Vessel Carried Crew of 60—Eight Bodies Are Recovered—Car Ferry, No. 17, Responds to Appeal for Aid and Brings In the Survivors—Loss to Vessel and Cargo Will Amount to Over Half a Million Dollars.

Ludington, Mich. (Special).—Thirty lives were lost when Pere Marquette car ferry, No. 18, bound from Ludington to Milwaukee, went to the bottom of Lake Michigan halfway across the lake.

The dead include Capt. Peter Kilty, of Ludington; S. F. Sezepanck, of Chicago, purser and wireless operator, whose signals of distress brought assistance to the sinking steamer, and two members of the crew of car ferry, No. 17, who lost their lives in an effort to rescue the crew of No. 18.

Eli Colbean, of Saginaw, Mich., a member of the crew of No. 18, would make a thirty-first victim, but it is believed that he was not on board when No. 18 set out from here on her fatal trip.

The steamship company issued a list of 35 names of survivors of the wreck, all members of the crew, and most of whom were brought here on Pere Marquette car ferry, No. 17.

Eight bodies were recovered, six being brought here on car ferry, No. 17, and two being taken to Milwaukee on car ferry, No. 20.

There was a moment of intense silence as the big black steamer came through the piers into the harbor. The men and women turned upon each other and fought and struggled with insane eagerness to get first tidings of the fate of relatives who went away from here last night as members of the crew of the ill-fated car ferry.

Loss More Than Half Million.

The ferryboat was valued at $40,000, and the cargo, which included 28 loaded cars, at $100,000 to $150,000. The total loss will exceed half a million dollars, which is fully covered by insurance in Lloyd's, of England.

"Car ferry, No. 18, sinking—help," was the S. O. S. wireless message that brought the first news of the disaster to the city about 5 A. M. today.

The flash was repeated continuously for nearly an hour, but was unsigned. At 7.30 A. M. Superintendent Mercereau, of the Pere Marquette Car Ferry Line, received a wireless from car ferry, No. 17, stating that No. 18 sank at 7 o'clock after all on board had been rescued by life boats from No. 17.

Cause of Disaster Not Known.

Marine men are utterly at a loss to account for the shocking disaster. No. 18 was one of the finest and most costly car ferries ever built on the Great Lakes, and only yesterday the craft was inspected by Government officials at this port and found to be in first-class condition in every respect.

A Tragic Story.

The story of the loss of car ferry, Pere Marquette 18, constitutes the most tragic and thrilling chapter yet written in the history of the Lake Michigan mairne.

Leaving Ludington, at 11.30 o'clock with a fair but stiff wind and 29 loaded cars on deck, the ferry made good weather for five hours on its course to Milwaukee.

At 4.30 o'clock word was sent to Captain Peter Kilty that his boat was rapidly making water aft and that the pumps were unable to keep even with the inflow.

With full confidence in the stability and seaworthiness of his craft, the veteran car ferry navigator headed his ship with all speed toward Sheboygan, on the Wisconsin shore.

An effort was made to run a number of railroad cars overboard and thus lighten the load and gain a few precious minutes.

With great difficulty 29 cars were dropped off the stern of No. 18, but this gave the vessel only slight and temporary relief.

Suddenly without warning and before the horrified gaze of 50 men on board the car ferry, No. 17, which had just arrived on the scene in response to a distress signal, the great black bow of the flagship rose high in the air, the stern settled swiftly toward the bottom and with a roar and crash like an explosion the ship shot downward and was lost to view.

Agonized Cries for Help.

Agonizing cries for help rose above the roar of the sea. Irresistibly drawn by a tremendous suction, a score of men could be seen speeding toward the vortex of the sinking steamer's revolving wheels, which sealed their doom. Then began the rescue. Lowering one of her lifeboats containing four sails, the crew of No. 17 began a work of humanity which marks many of the number as heroes. No sooner had the tiny lifeboat touched the angry waves than it was hurled with terrific force against the side of the steel steamer and crushed into a shapeless mass.

Two Rescuers Drowned.

Two of the sailors were rescued by those on board, while the other two—Joseph Peterson and R. Jacobson, a scrubber—immediately sank and drowned. Others quickly manned another lifeboat, which was successfully launched. This boat, in charge of Duncan Milligan, of Ludington, did heroic service and in less than an hour picked up 14 survivors who were floating about clinging to bits of wreckage.

Then another lifeboat was manned and joined in the work of rescue. It was a race against time, and in the face of great danger more than 30 were saved.

FATAL EXPLOSION ON NORTH DAKOTA

Three Men of Crew Killed and Nine Badly Burned.

THIRD ACCIDENT ON WAR VESSEL.

Admiral Schroeder's Report Says the Fire Occurred While the Battleship Fleet Was on the Way from the Drill Grounds to Hampton Roads—The Dead Men Were Coal Passers.

Newport News, Va. (Special).—Three men were killed outright and nine others were horribly burned by the explosion of an oil tank in fireroom No. 3 of the new giant battleship North Dakota, near Cape Henry, while that ship was coming to Hampton Roads from the Southern drill grounds, 36 miles southeast of the Capes, with the first and second divisions of the Atlantic Battleship Fleet.

While they were horribly burned about the face and body, all of the injured are expected to recover. They are now being cared for on the hospital ship Solace, which is anchored off Old Point Comfort. Though he gave out a lengthy statement relative to the disaster, Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, would not say what caused the explosion and official details are lacking. However, it is learned from sailors of the North Dakota that one of the pipes leading into the tank in Fire Room No. 3 was defective and the heat in the engineroom ignited the oil in the pipe and the burning fluid passed in the tank, setting the oil there afire and causing the explosion.

While dazed for an instant after the explosion it is said that the uninjured men and even some of the wounded worked heroically to prevent the fire from spreading to the coal bunkers and causing a serious conflagration aboard the vessel. Lieutenant Murfin, the men say, displayed great coolness and nerve and, though burned about the face and body, bravely directed the firemen and coal-passers in removing the injured and extinguishing the flames.

For a few seconds after the explosion, excitement ran high on the ship, as it was at first thought that a boiler had exploded. However, the sailors were soon reassured and they set to work to save their ship from fire.

Schroeder Explains.

Following is the official statement given out by Rear Admiral Schroeder about the explosion:

"Between 10:30 and 11 o'clock A. M., oil from Room No. 3, in the North Dakota caught fire while the first squadron of the Atlantic Fleet was making passage from the Southern drill grounds to Hampton Roads. Under a request from the commander of the North Dakota, the commander-in-chief of the fleet immediately ordered the North Dakota to leave the fleet formation and the battleship New Hampshire put near to render assistance in case they could be of service. No assistance was necessary and by 11:30 o'clock the fire on the North Dakota was under control. It has not yet been ascertained how the fire started, although it is believed that the disaster was not due to any carelessness upon the part of the men of the North Dakota. A board of inquiry was named to investigate the accident, consisting of Capt. C. A. A. Cove, of the Delaware, senior officer; Lieutenant Commander C. V. Price, of the Delaware, and Lieutenant Commander A. M. Proctor, of the Connecticut. This board will thoroughly look into the cause of the explosion."

KISSES CURVED NERVES.

Man Sued for Divorce, Tells How He Cured Wife.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—Kissing as a healing power and a balm for nervousness is declared efficacious by James L. Carrico in answer to the petition of his wife for a divorce. Mrs. Carrico alleged in her petition that while she was sick her husband was continually under the influence of liquor and did not administer proper treatment to her. He asserted in his answer that: "When defendant put his arms about plaintiff and kissed her, her nervousness and other ailments disappeared."

He contends that she was simply "nervous" and unable to tell about his sobriety, but that, as soon as he kissed her, she returned to her normal self.

THOUGHT FLYING EASY.

Farm Hand Who Posed as Bird Fell 20 Feet.

Newmarket, N. J. (Special).—Convinced by the achievements of others that flying was easy, Hans Christiansen, a farm hand employed by Charles Fleming on the River road, near here, rigged himself up with wings and jumped off the roof of the barn. He fell 20 feet and was badly shaken up, but will get over it.

Christiansen tied inflated bags to his arms and fastened a parasol over his head and thought he could surely fly. Nobody saw Christiansen make the leap. His employer came across him in the grass by the roadside.

Storm Costs Scores of Lives.

San Juan, P. R. (Special).—Advices received from the interior indicate that probably a score of persons lost their lives and property damage running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars was done by the hurricane which swept the island and its waters Thursday night and Wednesday. It is feared that several small ships, not included in the first reports of losses, went down.

Gompers Is Served.

St. Louis, Mo. (Special).—Notices of the injunction suit instituted by C. W. Post to prevent the unionizing of the Bucks Stove and Range Company plant, were served on Samuel Gompers and other labor union officials today by United States Deputy Marshals. Gompers later met with representatives of the Stove Founders' National Defense Association to discuss methods by which the Bucks plant will be unionized.

Federal Judge McPherson on Monday refused to issue a temporary injunction for which Post asked.

WOMAN FLOORED BANKERS

Refused to Give Mrs. Ida von Claussen $25,000.

New York (Special).—Because Calvert Brewer, first vice-president, and Carl G. Rasmus, second vice-president of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, refused to give Mrs. Ida von Claussen $25,000, she floored both of them with well-directed blows. Employes of the trust company hustled Mrs. von Claussen out of the building. She disappeared before the police arrived.

Mrs. von Claussen is the granddaughter of Michael Byrne, who left an estate of $1,000,000. The United States Mortgage and Trust Company is trustee for the estate and Mrs. von Claussen claims that $25,000 has accumulated which the officials refuse to give her. This the company denies, saying she has had all the money that was coming to her.

Tipped Off the Papers.

Before starting out Mrs. von Claussen telephoned the newspapers there would be "something doing," so she had a good audience when she appeared. She wore a stunning purple dress, a black picture hat and all her famous jewelry.

Mrs. Nellie Van Slingerland, who accompanied her, addressing Brewer, who accosted the couple when they came in demanded that he pay the $25,000.

"I am very sorry," said Brewer, "but we are unable to do as you desire."

Mrs. Von Claussen immediately rushed across the room, and as Brewer arose from his chair she landed a right jab on his jaw that grazed a piece of skin off his chin. A second blow was warded off, but her diamond ring cut a gash in his wrist. She then swung a right to the side of Brewer's head, and he fell over his chair.

Rasmus came to his chief's assistance, but Mrs. Von Claussen grabbed him by his coat lapels, shook him like a cat shaking a mouse and hurled him backward, sprawling, to the floor.

Threat to Sue Roosevelt.

Mrs. Von Claussen achieved international notoriety about three years ago by threatening to sue the then President Roosevelt, because United States Minister Graves had refused to present her to the King of Sweden. She alleged that the King had expressed a desire to meet her and his failure to do so was entirely due to Minister Graves' action. She endeavored to lay her complaint before President Roosevelt in Washington, but was denied admittance to his office by Secretary Loeb, who thereupon became very unpopular with her.

SAYS HE PADDED BILLS.

Former Railroad President Implicates John M. Taylor.

Chicago (Special).—When the hearing of criminal cases against Frank B. Harriman, Charles L. Ewing and John M. Taylor, formerly Illinois Central officials, implicated in the car-repair scandals, was taken up Wednesday, F. H. Niles, former president of the now defunct Blue Island Car and Equipment Company, took the witness stand.

He declared that he had padded bills for repairing cars by adding from $35 to $45 to the cost of each car. In doing this, he said, he was acting under the instructions of Taylor, at that time general storekeeper of the Illinois Central. Niles occupied all the afternoon.

Niles told of the organization of the car company, and said that Harriman, Ewing, Taylor, Joseph E. Buker and the late Ira G. Rawn held stock. The company later was dissolved and reorganized as the Blue Island Rolling Mill and Car Company.

MEN ONCE HAD HORNS.

Skeletons of Warriors Found In California.

Los Angeles (Special).—Anthropologists of coast universities are endeavoring to discover to what age the prehistoric human bones that have recently been unearthed in Topango Canyon should be ascribed. The absence of the bones of women or children is considered proof that the skeletons are those of warriors.

Thirty complete skeletons have been unearthed. The foreheads are low and retreating, the jawbones prominent and the cheek bones high. The bones indicate that their owners were about the size of the average man of this day.

It is believed that they are the bones of old men, because the teeth are worn down to about what must have been near the line of the gums. Just above and in front of the ears each has a horn-like development three inches long.

DROWNS HIMSELF IN RIVER.

Man Told Wife Where to Find Body and Tied Himself Fast to Tree.

New Castle, Ind. (Special).—Olin Payne, 35 years old, well known as a canner, committed suicide by drowning in Blue River, a mile north of this city. The water was only 18 inches deep.

After mailing a letter to his wife, bidding her good-by, saying it was best to end it all and telling her where his body would be found, he took his life. To prevent the body from floating away, Payne tied a leather strap to his ankle and then to a willow at the edge of the stream and also tightly grasped another tree with his left hand. It is said that he had no domestic trouble.

Stamps Hurt Eyes.

Saratoga (Special).—The current issue of postage stamps was condemned because of the colors of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks at the session of its eleventh annual convention. The colors were said to be hard on the eye. A resolution was adopted favoring stamps with radically varying colors for different denominations in order to facilitate work at the office.

Constable Killed.

Huntington, W. Va. (Special).—David Howell, constable of Mingo county, and detective for the Thacer Coal and Coke Company, was shot to death while passing a hotel in Williamson, the shot being fired from an upstairs window. Howell expired within five minutes after receiving the wound. He had been one of Mingo county's widely-known officers and had killed three men during his official career. No arrests have as yet been made.

RESOURCES FOR ALL THE PEOPLE

Conservation Congress Adopts Platform and Adjourns.

WARM DEBATE IN THE COMMITTEE.

Co-operation of State and National Governments Urged in All Cases of Divided Jurisdiction—Waters to Be Used Primarily for Supply and Irrigation and Secondarily for Navigation and Power.

St. Paul, Minn (Special).—The National Conservation Congress adopted a platform placing the seal of its approval on national control of natural resources and adjourned.

A threatened fight on the part of State conservation commissioners to place the names of President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt in the platform as the great friends of conservation did not materialize on the floor. Under vigorous use of the gavel it did not even get started.

The following were chosen officers:

President, Henry Wallace, Des Moines, Iowa.

Secretary, Thomas R. Shipp, Indianapolis.

Treasurer, D. A. Latchaw, Kansas City.

Gifford Pinchot and J. B. White, of Kansas City, declined to be nominated for the presidency, and Mr. Wallace was not opposed.

Vice-presidents for each State were chosen, each speaking briefly.

Granville M. Hunt invited the next congress to meet at Washington, D. C.

L. G. Worsham, of Georgia, announced that a Southern conservation congress will be held at Atlanta on October 7 and 8.

The Platform.

The platform, in part, adopted by the convention is as follows:

"The second National Conservation Congress, made up of delegates from all sections and nearly every State and Territory of the United States, met at the call of a great moral issue, now in session assembled in the city of St. Paul, and State of Minnesota, does hereby adopt and solemnly declare the following platform of opinion and conclusion concerning the inherent rights of the people of the United States:

"Heartily accepting the spirit and intent of the Constitution and adhering to the principles laid down by Washington and Lincoln, we declare our conviction that we live under a government of the people, by the people, for the people, and we repudiate any and all special or local interests or platforms or policies in conflict with the inherent rights and sovereign will of our people.

People's Rights Inherent.

"Recognizing the natural resources of the country as the prime basis of property and opportunity, we hold the rights of the people in these resources to be natural and inherent and justly inalienable and indefeasible, and we insist that the resources should and shall be developed, used and conserved in ways consistent both with current welfare and with the perpetuity of our people.

"Recognizing the waters of the country as a great national resource, we approve and indorse the opinion that all the waters belong to all the people and hold that they should be used in the interest of the people.

For Democratic Supply.

"Recognizing the inter-dependence of the various uses of the waters of the country, we hold that the primary uses are for democratic supply and for agriculture through irrigation or otherwise, and that the uses for navigation and power in which water is not consumed are secondary; and we commend the modern view that each use of the waters should be made with reference to all other uses for the public welfare in accordance with the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number for the longest time.

"Viewing purity of water supply as essential to the public health and general welfare, we urge upon all municipal, State and Federal authorities and on individuals and corporations requisite action toward purifying and preventing contamination of the waters.

For Limited Leases.

"We hold that the deposits of minerals underlying, particularly mineral fuels, iron ores and phosphate deposit, should be leased for limited periods not exceeding 50 years, but subject to renewal, the royalty to be adjusted at more frequent intervals, such leases to be in amounts and subject to such regulations as to prevent monopoly and unnecessary waste.

State Co-operation Favored.

"We favor co-operative action on the part of States and the Federal Government looking to the preservation and better utilization of the soils by approved scientific methods.

"We approve of the continuance of the control of the national forests by the Federal Government and approve the policy of restoring to settlement such public lands as are more valuable for agriculture.

To Teach Conservation.

"We recommend that the public and private schools instruct the youth of the land in the fundamental doctrines of conservation."

Heat Leads to Suicide.

New York (Special).—Albert Kraft, 20 years old, living at 445 Elton street, East New York, committed suicide by shooting himself in the temple. He had been crazed by the heat. Kraft left his work at noon on account of the heat, and on his return home seated himself on the doorstep. Suddenly, he drew a revolver and, placing it to his head, fired.

Big Strike Settled.

Kansas City, Mo. (Special).—The Southwestern coal miners' strike of five and a half months' duration ended at midnight when the operators and miners agreed upon the arbitration point regarding future contracts. This point has been the great stumbling block of all negotiations. All the miners in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas are affected. They get an increase of 5½ per cent. in wages, and agree to continue work for 60 days pending the making of a new agreement.

BOTH SIDES ARE SATISFIED

Hague Court Decides Fisheries Controversy.

The Hague (Special).—The International Court of Arbitration, after hearing prolonged arguments rendered its decision in the Newfoundland fisheries case submitted by the governments of the United States and Great Britain, but which also involved the local governments of Canada and Newfoundland.

Neither country wins a clear-cut award, but the Americans claim a substantial victory.

The general issue as submitted through the agreement signed in Washington was presented in the form of seven questions. On these questions or points the tribunal supports the United States in five instances and Great Britain in the other two.

The seven points involved were as follows:

First, must any reasonable regulations made by Great Britain, Canada and Newfoundland in the form of municipal laws, ordinance or rules, such regulations being appropriate or necessary for the preservation of the fisheries, desirable on grounds of public order and morals equitable and fair as between local fishermen and inhabitants of the United States, be subject to the consent of the United States?

America's Victory.

"Second, have the inhabitants of the United States, while exercising the liberty to take fish on the treaty coasts a right to employ as members of their fishing crews persons not inhabitants of the United States?

"Third, can the liberties to take, dry and cure fish in treaty designated places be subjected, without the consent of the United States, to the requirements of entry or report at custom houses or the payment of dues or any similar conditions?

"Fourth, can restrictions be imposed upon American fishermen making the exercise of the privileges granted them by the treaty to enter certain bays or harbors for shelter, repairs, food and water, conditional upon the payment of light or harbor or other dues, on entering or reporting at the custom houses or any similar conditions?

"Fifth, what is a bay within the treaty's meaning?

"Sixth, does the treaty give the inhabitants of the United States the same liberty to take fish in the bays, harbors and creeks of Newfoundland as in Labrador?

"Seventh, are the inhabitants of the United States whose vessels resort to the treaty coasts to exercise the liberties referred to in Article 1 of the treaty, entitled to have for those vessels when duly authorized by the United States in that behalf, the commercial privileges on the treaty coasts accorded by agreement or otherwise to United States trading vessels generally?"

Where England Won.

The British consider the two points decided in their favor, Nos. 1 and 5, as of the highest importance, and it is understood that the Colonial Office is satisfied with the outcome. On No. 1, however, the United States has raised certain questions of equity which will be submitted to a special commission for determination. It is also significant that the court was unanimous on all questions except the fifth, and from the decision of this Luis Drago, the member from the Argentine Republic, gave a dissenting opinion largely supporting the American contentions.

On all others of the seven main questions the tribunal sustains the principal contentions of America.

HUMANE HIGHWAYMAN.

Called Doctor to Attend Woman's Ill Child.

Williamstown, N. J. (Special).—While on her way at midnight to get a physician for her sick baby, Mrs. C. D. Hartlett was held up by a highwayman, who played the part of a good Samaritan and brought the doctor in time to have her child.

Mrs. Hartlett lives about four miles out of town. After two miles were covered she became exhausted and almost collapsed. As she was making a brave effort to continue a men stepped from behind a tree and demanded her money.

She pleaded with the man to let her go, explaining her errand. The man asked the location of the doctor's residence, urged the woman to return and promised to summon the physician. A short time later Dr. George Van Belt was aroused by the stranger.

Doctor Van Belt did not want to take the journey until dawn, but the stranger was so persistent that the doctor consented, if the man would go to his stable and hitch up his horse. This he did, and then disappeared. The baby is now out of danger.

MEET HORRIBLE DEATH.

Three Killed When Auto Crashes Into Car of Molten Slag.

Chicago (Special).—Three persons, two women and a man, were burned to death in South Chicago when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a car loaded with molten slag from the Wisconsin Steel Company. Miss Anna Baker, the fourth member of the automobile party escaped death by jumping, but was badly bruised and burned.

The automobile was two blocks from the steel company when it started to cross the tracks. The slag train backing on the track hit the automobile, cutting it in half. The occupants were literally buried under tons of the white hot slag metal.

Miss Baker leaped from the automobile, but was unable to stop her progress until she had rolled into flowing metal. The automobile was set on fire by the slag and the gasolene tank exploded.

Farmers May Strike.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—Washington is threatened with a vegetable boycott by the farmers of the surrounding territory, and the District Commissioners have been requested to rescind a new order which eliminates the city lights on the county roads. The farmers threaten that, if the lights are put out, they will curtail their supplies to the city. The Commissioners are considering the matter and the farmers threaten to ship all their produce to Baltimore.

Judge Varney's Encouragement

By AGNES BOOTH

(Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.)

Dexter Fairfield pushed open the door of Judge Varney's office, closed it again quickly, and scanned the signs on the outside, his face perplexed and his broad shoulders elevated doubtfully.

After a little hesitation he again opened the door, and hurried through the outer office to the judge's private room. Within this shelter, he dropped limply into the nearest chair.

"Thought I'd struck the wrong trail," he gasped, "when I opened the door and saw that bunch. Your business must have increased amazingly, Varney!"

"Did they gaze admiringly at you?" the judge asked quizzically.

"Great Heavens! I don't know. I didn't even dare look at them. I was never so scared before! Why, the room seemed full of girls—hundreds of 'em!"

Judge Varney laughed softly. "There are only six."

"But can't you see that I'm weak—actually fainting from the shock? Six pretty girls——"

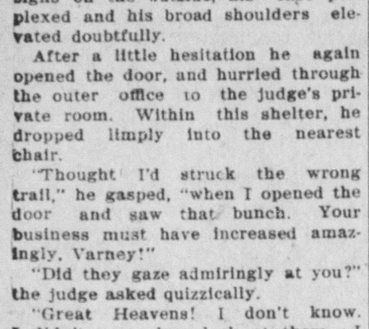
"You said you didn't look at them," the judge interposed.

"I didn't, but after seven years in Wyoming any girl is pretty. Now tell me about them."

The judge's keen gray eyes sparkled humorously. "Well, I hope I've secured a year's supply of stenographers."

"I see; laying in a stock against a time of need," approved Fairfield. "A good scheme, judge."

"I can't keep one more than a



Scanned the Signs on the Outside.

couple of months. Miss Allen left last week."

"Jimmy Drayton the lucky man?"

"Yes. I've determined not to be left alone again—helpless—unable to write a letter."

Fairfield nodded, with a commiserating glance at the empty right sleeve of his friend.

"So I wrote to my sister in Kansas City to engage some stenographers for me. Bess has really a most remarkable talent for analyzing character. I need no reference if they pass her inspection."

Fairfield chuckled—he had met Miss Elizabeth Varney.

"But, Varney, six! How can you——"

"Now, Fairfield," the judge interrupted plaintively, "when I come out to your ranch I don't ask embarrassing questions about the number of herders you employ."

"Oh, I beg your pardon."

"To be perfectly honest, I'm acting partly for your benefit. I've had some nice girls here and you never once tried to win favor with any of them. I thought you might be less bashful—less like a petrified clam if there were several together."

"I see, 'safety in number.' Is this why you sent for me? You're very good to encourage me in this way, but I'm doomed to lonely bachelorhood," Fairfield sighed mockingly.

"You deserve to be," his friend snapped testily, "but Wyoming has ten single men to one single woman and it's not fair to the state. Go back east and bring a wife home with you."

Fairfield's tanned face grew grave. "There was once a girl," he began hesitatingly.

"And there are plenty more," added the judge unfeelingly.

"Not for me. That's why I'm a bachelor."

"Did she marry the other man?"

"I don't know. She was too young then to marry anybody. I was a fool—most boys are—and my folly cost me my place in college and——"

"Suspended?" queried the older man. "I was 'vacationed' for three weeks when I was——"

"No," answered the other doggedly, "not suspended. Expelled, fired—kicked out!"

"No need to treasure the kick the rest of your life," the judge suggested kindly.

"It cost me also—home and—and name! I was given $500 and told to go west—and die!"

"Part of the advice was good—you came west."

"I followed it all. That boy died, all right!"

"You've lived—like a man! I've known you seven years. About nineteen, were you, when——"

"When I played fool? Twenty. I've never touched a drop of liquor since, Judge Varney!"

"And the girl."

"She was the daughter of one of the professors. Seventeen then, and I know, now that I'm older, that she cared for me. But I was an 'undesirable' from the first, and I never had a second alone with her—she was so infernally well chaperoned! Her mother meant her to make a great match. The girl gave promise of wonderful beauty, and for some reason the professor hated me as the devil hates holy water!"

"M——m," murmured the judge thoughtfully, "I think I can account for your expulsion!"

"I was as proud as I was foolish. I made no attempt at justification, perhaps if I had——Oh, what's the use? It's past and gone! Let the dead past bury its dead!"

"That's right," the judge agreed heartily, "you've shown your worth here in Wyoming. You've lived white—playing the game of life like a man. You've made good with the money you were told to die on. You'll be a rich man before you are forty. Now if you'd only forget that girl——"

Fairfield raised an impatiently interrupting hand. "You mean well, Varney, and I'm not wearing my heart where the daws can get at it, but—there'll never be another girl for me. I knew it when I was a boy. I know it now."

"Suppose," mused the judge, in a voice of unwonted gentleness, "suppose you were to meet her again. Suppose you found you were right in believing she loved you long ago. Suppose she still cares——"

Fairfield's tanned face paled, and his strong, brown hand pulled impetuously at his collar.

"Don't, Judge, you only open an old wound! We won't mention it again. I don't know what possessed me to speak of it now—even to you!"

"But if you should meet her," the judge persisted, "and could get a chance to see her alone?"

"Great Heavens, man!" cried the other, roughly, "I'm no longer a boy. I wouldn't wait to see her alone! One look into her eyes would tell me all I want to know and I'd take her into my arms if all the world stood staring."

Checking himself abruptly, he walked toward the window, asking in an altered tone: "Will you go to lunch with me, Varney?"

"If you'll wait about ten minutes; I must sign some letters first."

Fairfield answered absently, looking from the window with eyes that saw nothing of the familiar scene before him. He heard the door open from the outer office; he was conscious that the judge was speaking to some one. He did not turn—his thoughts were back in the past he had tried to forget. He seemed to see again the shy little girl whose eyes had answered the words he could not speak, whose sorrowful face had looked down at him from her window when he, defiant and reckless, had turned to shake a boyish fist at the college walls he was leaving in disgrace.

A gentle hand touched his arm and a sweet voice said: "Dexter, I hope you haven't forgotten?"

"Grace!"

It was the cry of a strong man with empty arms and yearning heart a cry that was answered by clinging arms.

"I'm not conducting a matrimonial bureau exactly," the judge explained later, "but when this young lady addressed the district judge asking assistance in locating a certain Dexter F. Windsor, but only in case the said Windsor is not married, my suspicions were aroused, and I wrote to her to come on and help me identify the—the chump!" he finished fondly, his hand on the young man's shoulder.

In a Tropical Forest.

Dr. Charles H. Townsend, director of the New York aquarium, who recently spent a month in and about the straits of Magellan, contributes to the Popular Science Monthly an account of his experience. The perpetual snow line is only 2,000 to 3,000 feet above tidewater, and yet in the summer season wonderful flowers and ripe berries are to be gathered, while humming-birds, parrots and flamingoes abound. Fortunately there are no mosquitoes. "No ordinary description can convey a clear idea of the generally impenetrable character of the forests, which are more tangled and difficult than those of the tropics. Fallen trees and branches cover deeply the whole forest floor, these in turn being mostly concealed with mosses and large plants, the whole always saturated as if by a recent rainstorm. After clambering over decayed logs, heavily blanketed with mosses, one may land waist deep in boggy vegetation. Progress is possible only by constant and laborious climbing over obstructions."

Archaeological Discovery.

A record of very great interest concerning the celebrated siege of Jerusalem by Vespasian's army, under the command of Titus, has been discovered in upper Egypt, consisting of a wooden panel, with raised borders, or frame, bearing a Latin inscription of some fifty lines, of which thirty-seven are still perfectly legible. Apart from its historical importance this relic, with the exception of the tablets found at Pompeii, containing some accounts of a banker there, is the most valuable specimen ever found.

EXPLORING BARKING ABBEY

Workmen Excavating for New Street Find Subterranean Passage Leading From Old Edifice.

In the course of excavations for a new street at Barking a subterranean passage was discovered which had evidently led from the old abbey.

A workman, while digging at a depth of ten feet, drove his pick into some soft stonework, and after the subsequent collapse of earth the passage was revealed. It was found that the pick had been driven through the arched ceiling of a stone-built passage some eight feet six inches high and about six feet wide. Exploring parties have investigated the interior by the aid of candle light. The walls were found to be damp and clammy, and the floor was covered with a thick carpet of spongy substance, into which the feet sank slightly. For a distance of nearly 20 yards the passage is clear, and at either end of this stretch it is blocked, in one case by a fall of earth and in the other case, presumably, by the character of the structure itself. Two smaller passages turn off the first passage, and in one of the side turnings there were found half a dozen human skulls and a quantity of bones. Among the latter is a number of jaw bones of horses or other large animals. All the bones and skulls are charred, and the walls of the passage also show traces of fire.

The Abbey of Barking is reported to have been built in A. D. 679 by Erkenwald, who afterwards became Bishop of London, and whose sister Ethelberga became first abbess at Barking. It was the first nunnery established in this country. In A. D. 870 the Danes destroyed it by fire, and it lay desolate for a century until restored by King Edgar. Many members of royal families were among its abbesses. From the fact that the main passage runs in the direction of Barking creek, a short distance away, it is believed to have afforded a channel of communication from the abbey to the waterway and thence to the Thames.—London Standard.

HEARD IN JUVENILE COURT

Judge Is No Match for Colored Mammy, Who Outwits Him at Every Turn.

The judge of the juvenile court, leaning forward in his chair, looked searchingly from the discreet and very ragged pickaninny before his desk to the ample and solicitous form of the culprit's mother, says the Youth's Companion. "Why do you send him to the railroad yards to pick up coal?" demanded his honor. "You know it is against the law to send your child where he will be in jeopardy of his life."

"'Deed, jedge, I doesn't send 'im; I nebber has sent 'im, 'deed—"

"Doesn't he bring home the coal?" interrupted the judge, impatiently.

"But, jedge, I whips 'im, jedge, every time he brings it, I whips de little rapscallion till he cayn't set, 'deed, I does."

The careful disciplinarian turned her broad, shiny countenance reprovingly upon her undisturbed offspring, but kept a conciliatory eye for the judge.

"You burn the coal he brings, do you not?" persisted the judge.

"Burns it—burns it—cose I burns it. W'y, jedge, I has to git it out ob de way."

"Why don't you send him back with it?" His honor smiled insinuatingly as he rasped out the question.

"Send 'im back, jedge!" exclaimed the woman, throwing up her hands in a gesture of astonishment. "Send 'im back! W'y, jedge, ain't yo' jest done been told me I didn't oughter send my chile to no sech dange'some and jeopardous place?"

Knew the Remedy.

"I'll be durned if I didn't have to laugh good an' hard at one uv them there autty-lunatic, although I didn't feel much like snickerin' at the time," said Farmer Chinfuzz to the other soap-box warmers in the cross roads store; "an' here's the answer: On my way down to the county seat the hoss balked good an' stubborn fer a spell an' in the midst uv my rippin' an' snortin' along comes a big red auttymobile with a real friendly feller behind the goggles. When the feller found out that my outfit wuz stationary fer the time bein', what do you s'pose he up an' done? Grabbed a monkey wrench, an oil can an' a hammer, crawled under my wagon, made a noise like a b'iler factry, an' may I be tetotally honswoggled if that there hoss' mane didn't stand up like a porkypine's an' he made tracks so fast I'm thinkin' uv trainin' him fer the ring speedin' at next county fair, b'gosh."—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

A Vision of the Future.

"Bishop Potter," said a New York clergyman, "was progressive, but he thought that some churches went too far in their effort to attract the public. He was talking to me very seriously one day about churches that give moving picture entertainments and hire actors and opera singers and have billiard rooms and allow smoking, when he broke off with a laugh and said:

"Why, Jim, if this thing keeps on things will come to a pass that the wife, putting her head out of the window at three in the morning and sternly asking her husband where he has been, will be met with the startling reply, 'I been-hic-to church m' dear.'"

STATE HAPPENINGS

Chester.—Joseph Skyzpek, a two-year-old boy, was accidentally drowned in a tubful of water while his widowed mother, Mrs. Josephine Skyzpek, was sitting on the front door-steps of her home. The child had wandered into the home of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Gzernick, next door. The tub, which was on the kitchen floor, aroused the curiosity of the little fellow, who climbed over the side of the tub and plunged into the water. He was evidently stunned by striking his head against the bottom of the tub. The mother became distracted when she learned of her son's death.

Shamokin.—During a terrific rain and electrical storm in this region, St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, at Kupmont, was blown down, the structure being partially built of wood and in course of construction. Eight workmen, who were in the church at the time, had narrow escapes from being killed by falling timber.

Pottsville.—Frank Royer, of Lancaster, was instantly killed, and Samuel Boltz, of Strausstown, Berks county, was fatally injured, at Orwigsburg, when they were precipitated from the roof of a dwelling, which they were painting, to the ground a distance of about 20 feet. The accident was due to the breaking of a rope. They struck on their heads, Royer's skull being crushed in and Boltz suffering with a severe compound fracture, which gives little, if any, hope for his recovery. Royer, who was 35 years of age, removed to Orwigsburg from Lancaster recently, and was married just a few months ago. Boltz also recently came to Orwigsburg. He is single.

Gettysburg.—The inauguration of Dr. William Anthony Granville, late of Yale University, as president of Gettysburg College, will take place on October 20 with ceremonies which, as now planned, will be unusually elaborate. Among the guests expected are Governor Stuart, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, Dr. Ira Remsen, Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh and other prominent educators, in addition to representatives from all the principal educational institutions in this section of the country.

Harrisburg.—The first wedding to take place in Pennsylvania's Capitol occurred at noon, when Peter J. Santz and Miss Bertha Hersey, of Cross Roads, were married in the Department of Factory Inspection. The couple are parishioners of Rev. C. V. Hartzell, chief clerk of the department, who is the Methodist minister at Cross Roads, and came here to have him perform the ceremony, not desiring the stir of a home wedding.

Lancaster.—While shooting at birds on the Ephrata Mountains, Wesley Groff, of Reading, accidentally shot and probably fatally wounded Norman Heck, who lives near Ephrata. While in the underbrush Groff got a line on a bird. Not knowing of the close proximity of his companions, he fired and the bullet struck Heck in the chest grazing the lungs. He was carried by comrades to the office of a physician where the ball was removed. His condition is grave.

Selins Grove.—By the explosion of the boiler of a steam threshing engine, in Monroe Township, Snyder county, Nathanial Bailey, a laborer, and twelve-year-old Emanuel Jarrett were fatally injured. Albert Smith, an engineer, was seriously scalded. Bailey was hurled through an open door in the barnyard. Clouds of steam in the barn extinguished several small fires in the structure and saved the building from total destruction.

Shamokin.—When officers appeared at the home of Mrs. Anthony Margle to arrest her on the charge of trespassing and stealing coal on the Mineral & Mining Company's land, she refused to accompany the police, at the same time beginning to disrobe in order to scare them away. They threw a horse blanket about her, and took her to jail at Sunbury. Recently she disrobed as the police served a warrant on her for an alleged misdemeanor, causing the officers to depart in haste.

Pottsville.—Court ousted School Directors M. J. Kenna, J. A. Holihan, John Stutz, Martin Brennan, Hugh McGowan and Benjamin Lloyd, of Blythe Township. These directors were unable to agree on the election of teachers and the public schools are therefore closed, although they are usually opened in that district in the last week of August. The Court will appoint a new board. One of the directors of the old board is under arrest on a charge of bribery.

Shenandoah.—John Moscave, fifteen years old, while swimming in the Kohinoor Colliery reservoir, was attacked and bitten by a good-sized snapper turtle, which took a piece of flesh the size of a silver dollar out of his left arm. The boy collapsed, thinking he was bitten by a water snake. He was revived with difficulty and his wound cauterized.

Reading.—With the destruction, by fire, of his home, in Glenside, a suburb, where he lived alone for the past five years, Joseph Madner, aged 39 years, an Austrian, was burned to death. Madner is believed to have had a large sum of money in the house and this was also destroyed.

Pottsville.—Geo. W. Smith, of Frackville, several days ago pared a troublesome corn, using a rusty razor for the purpose. As the result, blood poisoning set in and gangrene followed. Physicians were powerless to aid him and death resulted. Smith was 76 years of age and a veteran of the Civil War.

Chester.—Rosa Zaza, a 2-year-old girl, fell from a second-story window at her home to the pavement, a distance of 15 feet, sustaining a broken leg and other injuries. She was standing on a chair looking out of the window and was pressing on the screen which gave way. The child's condition is serious.

Altoona.—Joseph Samski, aged 35, was crushed to death by a locomotive in the Pennsylvania's round house when he ignored a warning not to go behind the stalls.

Street Car Dynamited.

Columbus, O. (Special).—A successful attempt was made to dynamite a street car in Bexley, a suburb. The conductor was considerably injured and the car damaged. The strikes are being held for alleged complicity in recent dynamiting.

The National Hotel

MILLHEIM, PA.

S. A. SHAWVER, Prop.

First class accommodations for the travelin. Good table board and sleeping apartments. The choicest liquors at the bar. Stable accommodations for horses is the best to be had. Bus to and from all trains on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad, at Coburn.

Jno. F. Gray & Son

(Successors to GRANT HOOVER)

Control Sixteen of the Largest Fire and Life Insurance Companies in the World. . . . .

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST . . . .

No Mutuals
No Assessments

Before insuring your life see the contract of THE HOME which in case of death between the tenth and twentieth years returns all premiums paid in addition to the face of the policy.

Money to Loan on First Mortgage

Office in Crider's Stone Building
BELLEFONTE, PA.
Telephone Connection

Literary Tastes.

"It's a funny thing," mused an old subway guard, "to notice the difference between the tastes of men and women who read on the trains. For a whole week I kept a pretty close tab on the people in my car and this is what I discovered. Women stick to books—popular novels as a rule—while the men cling to newspapers. When I struck an average at the end of a week I found that there were seventeen newspaper readers among the men to one woman. As book readers the women outclassed the men six to one. Among the men three out of four seem to give about all their attention to the sporting pages."—New York Sun.

Powerful British Windmill.

What is claimed as the largest and most powerful windmill in Great Britain has just been completed at Willesden, where its capacity is being tried under varying conditions. It is intended for a farm near Bristol, its use there being to generate electricity, supply power to run crushing machinery and work the pumps. From the trials made it is said this new wind machine is capable of generating sufficient electricity for 300 lights, to crush oats and grind maize, work an electric lift, cook the food and heat a room at a cost of ½d a unit.

Clever Evasion of Law.

A saloon keeper in East New York has a novel way of evading the Sunday excise law and giving his neighbors and friends a wet Sunday if they care to have one. On an iron gate leading into the yard in the rear of his place he has put a lock. He has had 250 keys made to give out to those he knows. Nobody gets in who can't open the lock. A man sits close to the gate and closes it after each one comes in.

Explanation Wanted.

"Oh, you are Mrs. Blizzer?" asked the vivacious and beautiful woman, on being introduced to her. "I have often met your husband. I must congratulate you. He is always such a happy-looking man. I have noticed that particularly every time he has chatted with me." That evening Mrs. Blizzer says calmly, but sternly to her husband: "Will you be so good as to tell me what makes you look happy when you are talking to other women?"—Judge.

Mary's Revenge.

Mary was a little girl who did not like to wait, but one day her mother having several guests, Mary was made to wait anyway, so just about the time dinner was under good headway, she poked her little curly head in at the dining-room door and said: "I don't care if I do have to wait; that was an old sick turkey, anyhow."—Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

French Woman's Long Sleep.

A curious case is that of a woman in the hospital at Alencon, France, who has been asleep for 30 days, and unlike most patients who fall into a lethargy, this patient has a perfectly normal temperature. Her teeth are rigidly set, and she has to be fed through a tube, which was introduced with great difficulty, and has been left between her teeth.

Nothing Uglier.

Nothing is uglier in American life than the tendency to delight in tearing down reputations. We consider the old Romans brutal because they gazed with pleasure on wild beasts tearing men to pieces. We bend not back our thumbs as we behold the rending of things that are more precious to a man than his body.—New York Globe.

Montana City Holds Record.

Miles City, Montana, holds the record for variation in temperature. The highest temperature recorded there is 111 deg., which is within 8 deg. of the highest recorded in the United States. Miles City's lowest mark has been 67 deg. below zero, which is truly arctic. The range between these two extremes is 178 deg., which is a record.

ATTORNEYS.

D. F. FORTNEY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
BELLEFONTE, PA.
Office North of Court House.

W. HARRISON WALKER
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
BELLEFONTE, PA.
No. 19 W. High Street.
All professional business promptly attended to

J. D. GETTIG JNO. J. BOWER W. D. ZERBY
GETTIG, BOWER & ZERBY
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW
EAGLE BLOCK
BELLEFONTE, PA.
Successors to ORVIS, BOWER & ORVIS
Consultation in English and German.

CLEMENT DALE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
BELLEFONTE, PA.
Office N. W. corner Diamond, two doors from First National Bank. jy09

W. G. RUNKLE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
BELLEFONTE, PA.
All kinds of legal business attended to promptly. Special attention given to collections. Office, 2d floor Crider's Exchange. jy09

N. B. SPANGLER
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
BELLEFONTE, PA.
Practices in all the courts. Consultation in English and German. Office, Crider's Exchange Building. jy09

Old Fort Hotel

EDWARD ROYER, Proprietor.
Location: One mile South of Centre Hall.
Accommodations first-class. Good bar. Parties wishing to enjoy an evening given special attention. Meals for such occasions will be prepared on short notice. Always prepared for the transient trade.
RATES: $1.00 PER DAY.

LIVERY

Special Effort made to Accommodate Commercial Travelers.....
D. A. BOOZER
Centre Hall, Pa. Penn'a R. R.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

Penn's Valley Banking Company

CENTRE HALL, PA
W. B. MINGLE, Cashier
Receives Deposits . .
Discounts Notes . . .

MARBLE AND GRANITE MONUMENTS.

H. G. STROHMEIER,
CENTRE HALL, ... PENN.
Manufacturer of and Dealer in HIGH GRADE . . .
MONUMENTAL WORK in all kinds of Marble AND Granite.
Don't fail to get my prices.

LARGEST INSURANCE Agency IN CENTRE COUNTY
H. E. FENLON
Agent
Bellefonte, Penn'a.
The Largest and Best
Accident Ins. Companies
Bonds of Every Description. Plate Glass Insurance at low rates.

THE CENTRE REPORTER
ISSUED WEEKLY.

S. W. SMITH, . . . Editor and Proprietor.

Entered at the Post Office in Centre Hall as Second Class mail matter.

CENTRE HALL, . . . PENN'A.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1910

TERMS.—The terms of subscription to the Reporter are one dollar per year in advance.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—20 cents per lines for hree insertions, and 5 cents per line for each subequent insertion. Other rates made known on application.

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.

United Evangelical—Lemont, morning; Linden Hall, afternoon.

Presbyterian—Centre Hall, morning; Spring Mills, afternoon.

Reformed—Union, morning, Harvest Home Service; Spring Mills, afternoon; Centre Hall, evening.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor
WEBSTER GRIM

For Lieutenant Governor
THOMAS H. GREEVY

For Secretary of Internal Affairs
JAMES L. BLAKESLEE

For State Treasurer
SAMUEL B. PHILSON

For Congress
WILLIAM C. HEINLE

For State Senator
(George M. Dimeling, withdrawn)

For the Legislature
J. CALVIN MEYER

LOCALS

With the Grange Encampment and Fair over, the Centre county fair will come in for attention by Centre county people.

The James A. Keller estate was paid a check for one thousand dollars by a New York life insurance company, the same being for a paid up policy held for some years by Mr. Keller.

Commissioners Dunlap and Zimmerman and County Solicitor Dale are in Wellsboro attending the convention of commissioners. Mr. Dunlap is the treasurer of the organization.

Adam Thomas, of Renovo, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. James M. Crayes, is the guest of his brother, Aaron Thomas, in Centre Hall. Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, of Loganton, are also guests at the same place.

J. Calvin Ruhl, who is holding down a job as woods foreman on the large lumber operations of Bay, Schooner & Trot, at Bess, Virginia, was in town this week. He is very much pleased with his work, and is getting along splendidly.

Mrs. Ellen Miller, of Munhall, is the guest of Mrs. Mary Shoop, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Miller has many friends in Centre Hall and Penns Valley who will be delighted to have her with them. She is now making her home with her daughter in the Pittsburg district.

A. C. Mingle, the Bellefonte shoe man, had an automobile wreck while motoring in the vicinity of Ardmore, near Philadelphia. It is understood the tire burst, causing the machine to turn turtle. A child, aged about seven years, had a shoulder broken. The others in the car, although pinned underneath the machine, were not much injured.

Mrs. N. S. Weaver, of Philadelphia, accompanied by Mrs. Lucy Henney, of Centre Hall, were callers on Tuesday. Mrs. Weaver came here on the very sad mission of laying to rest her husband. She was obliged to return to her home on account of business affairs connected with the conducting of a large restaurant on North 6th Street, Philadelphia.

Miss Lillie Dale, of Dale Summit, who is at present making her home with her brother, Horace Dale, at Rushville, Nebraska, writes back to friends that Sheridan county farmers are in a plight. About two weeks ago frost killed all the corn, when yet in a stage unfit for winter feed. Cattle are being rushed to market as rapidly as possible, because of this great loss.

The Belleville section of Mifflin county is represented at the encampment by Messrs. Andrew J. Crotzer and D. K. Byler, farmers. They report agricultural conditions very good in their section. Mr. Byler is one of the most progressive agriculturalists in his section, and devotes his energies chiefly to dairying, having a herd of pure bred Guernsey cattle, which are given the best of attention.

Fifty-six years ago William P. Emert went west from the Branch, near Boalsburg, and grew up with the country, and like many others who went west at that time and since, are now on "easy street," if you will excuse the expression. He is now located in Freeport, Illinois, and aside from dabbling in an occasional real estate deal, is taking matters as they come. He is now enjoying the Grange Encampment and Fair, and is the guest of D. L. Kerr, in Centre Hall. His boyhood days were spent on the Stiver farm, near Potters Mills. Joseph Emert is a brother, and is engaged in the drug business in Freeport. He is bordering on his eightieth year, but attends to business every day. Age is not bothering him, neither is money, for he has had a long profitable business career, just what is deserving a thoroughbred Penns Valley man, no matter where he is.

Maine is Democratic.

Col. Fred W. Plaisted was elected governor of Maine by a plurality of from five to eight thousand. He is the first Democratic governor elected in that state since 1881, at which time Harris M. Plaisted, father of the present governor-elect, was elected.

It is probable that the legislature will be Democratic, and in that case a Democrat will succeed United States Senator Hale.

Pine Grove Mills.

Miss Gertrude Keichline is visiting friends in Lewistown.

Clarence Weaver, of Baileyville, transacted business here Saturday.

Mr. Steffie, of Bellwood, visited friends here last Saturday.

Misses Nellie Randolph and Mandella Smith spent Sunday at State College.

Misses Anna M. and Nora Goheen, of Pennsylvania Furnace, spent Monday with friends here.

Mrs. Elmer Reed and Miss Sophie Johnson visited friends in State College on Monday.

Miss Florence Gibboney, of State College, visited her aunt, Mrs. William Randolph.

James Decker and family are keeping a boarding house at Grange Park this week.

John Markle, who is employed at Bellwood, is spending some time with his family here.

William J. Dale has been on the sick list for the past week but is now much better.

Miss Ella Livingstone left on Thursday for Saulsburg where she will teach school.

Prof. White, of Warren county, is teaching the high school here this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Heberling and daughter, Miss Estella, and Mrs. Musser Heberling are tenting at the Grangers' picnic.

Mrs. (Dr.) McCormick and little daughter, of Hublersburg, spent last week with Mrs. McCormick's mother, Mrs. Donnelley.

Rebersburg.

Quite a number of people from this place are attending Grangers' picnic at Centre Hall this week.

Samuel Shaffer recently bought the Mrs. Willis Weber property in this place. The consideration was $700

The farmers in this vicinity are busy cutting off corn and sowing wheat. The corn crop is a good one.

One day last week D. B. Weaver, of Wolfs Store, lost a valuable horse by death. The animal had been ailing for several months.

Charles Bierly, of near Smullton, has thus far furnished the people in this vicinity with fine peaches which he raised in his peach orchard on his farm.

The seven-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Brindel, of near Wolfs Store, died last Wednesday and was brought to this place on Saturday and buried in the Union cemetery.

William Weaver, who was employed at Huntingdon, has returned with his family to this place. Although a young man, his health is fast failing, and he thought it proper to make the change.

Spring Mills.

F. M. Ream, north of town, is confined to his bed with an attack of typhoid fever.

John Meyer and wife spent Sunday visiting friends at Rebersburg.

F. M. Fike, of Johnstown, was a business visitor at the home of S. L. Condo, on Saturday.

As a good many from town are camping at Grange Park, this week, the town seems like deserted.

A few farmers have commenced to cut off corn, and there is every indication that there is going to be a bumper corn crop this year.

H. I. Brain & Co. opened a coal yard, west of the railroad station, where they keep all kinds of coal, crushed stone, lime and cement.

Newton S. Weaver died at his home in Philadelphia on Friday evening. The remains were brought here on Monday morning and were interred in the Georges Valley cemetery. Mr. Weaver was raised in Gregg township, and for a number of years engaged in the restaurant business in Philadelphia.

Potters Mills

Miss Anna Henney returned to her home in Latrobe on Sunday.

J. O. Stover spent Sunday with his family in Reedsville.

Miss Emma Working is spending the week at the home of George Bitner.

J. M. Carson is very much better after suffering from pleuropneumonia

Miss Laura Stover, of Reedsville, spent a few days this week with her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Wolfe.

Mrs. John McNitt spent a few days last week at the home of her father-in-law, James S. McNitt, at Milroy.

Miss Nellie Wilkinson returned to Mifflinburg on Monday. She is employed in a millinery store at that place.

Mrs. C. J. Shaffer and daughters, Kathryne and Ethel, of Lewistown, passed through town Saturday. They expect to spend the week at Grange Park.

HOW "PROTECTED" MEN LIVE

With Scant Allowance For Necessaries Steel Workers Have Little Left.

[From The Survey.]

Two-thirds of the steel workers receive a wage not greater than $12 a week; only one-fifth receive more than $15. Let us see what a wage of $12 will do in Pittsburg. Fortunately we are able to draw upon Miss Byington's careful study of the budgets of ninety Homestead families. Thirty-two of these had less than $12 a week. Their average weekly expenditures were $9.18—or at the rate of $477.36 a year.

How do the families fare who spend from $12 to $15 a week? Miss Byington gives us the items for sixteen families in this wage group, with an average total expenditure of $13.32, or a scant $700 a year. These families pay about $10 a month rent, but ten of them live with more than two persons to a room and only five have city water in the house. They pay on the average 24 cents per man per day for food, but four of the sixteen spend less than 22 cents. Clothing they buy at the rate of $81.64 a year. Fifty cents a week for insurance provides only for burial, should death occur. The only item that looks hopeful is the margin of $2.82 for all other expenditures. But the families in this group were not self-indulgent; 20 cents paid the weekly bill for liquor and tobacco, 47 cents went for medical service, 42 cents for furnishings and minor household expenses, leaving only $1.23 for car fare, papers, recreation, education and miscellaneous expenditures.

It is no wonder that some of these sixteen families reported but 3 cents a week for recreation.

Assailing the Supreme Court.

In 1896.	In 1910.
Furthermore, the Chicago convention attacked the supreme court. Again this represents a species of atavism—that is, of recurrence to the ways of thought of remote barbarian ancestors. Savages do not like an independent and upright judiciary. They want the judge to decide their way, and if he does not they want to behead him—Theodore Roosevelt in the Review of Reviews, September, 1896—"The Vice Presidency and the Campaign of 1896."	We are all perfectly familiar with the judges (of the United States supreme court), who are perfectly honest, but fossilized of mind. * * * I am, however, convinced, both from the inconsistency of those decisions with the tenor of other decisions, and furthermore from the very fact that they are in flagrant and direct contradiction to the spirit and needs of the times, that sooner or later they will be explicitly or implicitly reversed.—Theodore Roosevelt in an address to the legislature of Colorado at Denver, Aug. 29, 1910.

He Made Them Come to Time.

[From the New York World.]

"I will make the corporations come to time," shouted Mr. Roosevelt at Toledo.

He made the Equitable Life come to time with a $50,000 campaign contribution.

He made the beef trust come to time with a big campaign contribution.

He made the Standard Oil come to time with another big campaign contribution.

He made E. H. Harriman, after a personal conference at the White House, come to time with $260,000.

These are only a few of the corporations and plutocratic interests Mr. Roosevelt made come to time in the 1904 campaign when he was a candidate for the presidency to succeed himself.

Turn on the light!

Tuesday, Sept. 20, is the next personal registration day in third class cities. One day has already passed. Were you registered then? Your registration last fall or last spring has expired. Don't wait until the last day! Be registered Sept. 20!

William H. Berry must have been communing with Mr. Pennypacker, but Berry goes the Sage of Schwenkville one better. Pennypacker wishes simply to hang newspaper men and cartoonists. Berry would burn 'em at the stake.

Mr. Longworth's Gloomy Future.

Perhaps Mr. Longworth forgot that he's got to put up with Speaker Cannon all next winter until the end of the short session. What the nation's uncle won't do to the nation's son-in-law will hardly deserve mention.—St. Louis Republic.

The Only Issue.

President Taft's letter clearly outlines the Republican platform for the congressional elections—"anything to save the party."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Harvest of Roosevelt's Activities.

The Worcester Telegram calls him "the advance agent of the poor house." That is what he was in 1907, and that is what he seems determined to be in 1910.—New York World.

Put none but Democrats on guard at Harrisburg! The state's funds will then be conserved by the legislature and graft and extravagance will end.

A former mayor of the city of Chester is very patiently suffering from what Mr. Kipling would term "too much ego in his cosmos."

Mr. Elector: When you go to be registered on Sept. 20 take your neighbor with you. This applies to voters in third class cities.

The Tariff an Enemy of Conservation.

James J. Hill in his address before the National Conservation Congress instanced the tariff as one of the enemies of conservation. "Whatever we may think, of it as a general policy," said Mr. Hill, "every one can see that by excluding the raw products of other countries it throws the entire burden of their consumption upon our own resources and thus exhausts them unnecessarily. The tariff on forest products cuts down our own forests, a tariff on coal depletes our mines, a tariff on any raw material forbids the conservation of similar natural resources here." The truth of this statement is self-evident except to the Republican advocates of conservation.—New York World.

The real estate owner who pays his taxes regularly does not need to pay a politax. The man who owns no real estate must pay a politax. The law is plain. An elector who is twenty-two years of age and upwards cannot vote next November unless he shall have paid a state or county tax within the past two years. Such tax must be paid within a month before the November election; in other words, not later than Oct. 8. If you have not complied with this provision of the law do so at once. Don't wait until the last day. The tax collector may want to go fishing.

The Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon league has never successfully disproved the charge that it dickered with Boies Penrose during the last legislature. William H. Berry has never successfully disproved the charge that he was willing to sacrifice his alleged local option principles in order to obtain the Allentown nomination as the Democratic candidate for governor. And the Anti-Saloon league is supporting the Keystone Party. 'Tis well said that "politics make strange bedfellows."

Remember what happened to the state treasury department during the forty years that the Cameron-Quay Penrose dynasty held it with an iron grip!

When Charles Fred Wright was a congressman he never did anything except obey the bosses. Will he act differently now?

The money at Harrisburg belongs to you—not to Boies Penrose.

Samuel B. Philson is the man to vote into the treasurer's chair.

It is necessary for every voter who lives in a city to be registered if he wish to vote in November. All previous registrations have expired. One registration day in third class cities which includes every city except Philadelphia, Greater Pittsburg and Scranton, has already passed. Two others are to come—Tuesday, Sept. 20, and Saturday, Oct. 22. Every Democrat is imposed with the duty of being registered himself and seeing that his neighbor is, too.

The Coldfeet club is growing rapidly. Pennsylvania's latest addition to it is Congressman Arthur L. Bates, of Meadville, candidate for re-election from the Crawford-Erie district. Bates says he will not support Speaker Cannon for re-election as presiding officer of the national house. A commendable pledge in itself, but it admirably depicts Bates' vacillating character and stamps him and his ilk as being unfit to sit at Washington.

No man can be a really good citizen if he doesn't exercise the right of franchise. But no one can exercise that right if not registered—if he live in a city. Tuesday, Sept. 20, is the next registration day.

The Tariff and Rubber Boots.

The same rubber boots we pay $4.50 for in this country can be bought abroad for 45 cents. Keep on revising the tariff downward!—Baltimore Sun.

The ATLAS E-Z SEAL Wide Mouth Jar holds large fruits whole and brings whole fruits—large, handsome, natural in appearance, to the table for your family and friends to enjoy. Don't attempt to "can" peaches, pears and plums in any other than ATLAS E-Z SEAL Jars.
Your dealer has them—ask him.
HAZEL-ATLAS GLASS CO.,
Wheeling, W. Va.

The KING LIME SPREADER

DEAR SIR:

Are you still considering the Spreader question?

We are very anxious to place one with you, because we are sure it would result in many more sales; and we are anxious to place it with you NOW in order that orders may be booked early for the coming season.

We therefore make you a VERY Special Proposition.

Our KING SPREADER is superior to others, because: It will distribute a greater variety of material, will distribute in any quantity from 100 lbs. to several thousand pounds to the acre.

It is simple—any laborer can operate it.

It is durable—cleans itself of acids that cause rust.

Foreign matter, stones, bolts, lumps do not interfere with distribution nor injure the machine.

It is either a two or one horse machine, as you may prefer to make it.

It will distribute broadcast or, in drills--will straddle row of corn, putting out fertilizer on either side--run between fruit trees, distributing fertilizer on either side of water furrows.

Is there any requirement of yours that you think our Spreader will not fulfill?

Does the low price cause you to consider it inferior? (The writer who invented the machine worked hard to bring out a durable and effective machine that could be sold at a low price--a low price being necessary for wide distribution--a farmer doesn't feel like paying from $45 to $60 for a machine that is to be used in spreading lime or fertilizer only a few acres.)

Shall we book you NOW for future shipment? Will ship a machine to you in September or October, or now.

Yours truly,
KING WEEDER CO.

See Very Special Offer Herewith. Richmond, Virginia

Read What Others Say About Our Spreader

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE & MECHANIC ARTS

West Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 3, 1910

Gentlemen: My foreman is very much pleased with the Spreader, and has found it excellent for distributing both lime and floats. We have used it to some extent for distributing mixed fertilizer successfully. I feel that this implement fills successfully a long felt want.

Very truly yours,
C. L. NEWMAN.

Pinegrove, Pa., June 28, 1910.

Gentlemen: I am well pleased with the Lime Spreader you sent me; it does all you claim for it. I have tried it with stone lime and put 50 bushels of stone lime to the acre. If I could only talk it into the people how handy this Spreader is, then I would have sold a lot, but they are so used to that old shovel that they like to throw their arms off, but this fall I think I can sell some as most farmers put their lime on seeding land.

Very truly,
J. S. HALDEMAN.

Nanuet, N. Y., June 11, 1910.

Gentlemen: Have noticed statement of J. S. Hagar, M. D., that your Spreader worked to a charm. I have a large farm and may need an implement in the near future. If you have printed matter for distribution, would be pleased to receive it. Yours truly,
I. J. WELLS, M. D.

Owensboro, Ky., June 24, 1910

Gentlemen: The Lime Spreader spreads the lime as you claimed.
Yours, S. R. EWING.

Petersham, Mass., June 23, 1910

Gentlemen: I will say your Spreader is alright.
Yours, JOHN A. CARTER.

Albion. N. Y., Feb. 1, 1910

Gentlemen: Have used the Spreader for liming 8 acres alfalfa, and am well pleased with it. Yours, A. C. HOWES.

Amelia, Va., July 13, 1910.

Gentlemen: I am well pleased with the Spreader, and believe it will answer every purpose. Yours, R. T. VAUGHAN.

Lynchburg, Va., July 14, 1910.

Gentlemen: The Hand Spreader gives satisfaction.
Yours, LYNCHBURG IMPLEMENT CO.

SPECIAL ORDER BLANK

We allow you $2.50 Extra Discount

if you will give us the names of 6 or 8 likely buyers of our Spreader, after they are convinced of its value.

No. 1 Spreader sells for $35.00, but we offered you $6.00 off and as we now offer you a further discount of $2.50 as above noted, and so the No. 1 Spreader will cost you only $26.50, Freight Paid. The No. 2 will cost you only $23.50 f. o. b., provided you order THIS MONTH (we will book the order for future shipment) and send us the 6 or 8 names.

You may ship me Spreader No. . . . . Ship it . . . . . I inclose $. . . . . .

Name . . . . . P. O. . . . . Shipping Point . . . . . State . . . . . .

If you order for future shipment you do not of course send check now, but if you will take a Spreader at once, we believe enough orders would result in 30 days to give you yours free of cost—the sale of only 6 Spreaders at regular price will give you a credit of enough and more to pay for your Spreader.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Amanda Walker, of Boalsburg, died Sunday night at the home of her brother, Jacob Meyer, near Linden Hall, aged sixty-one years, four months and twelve days. Interment was made Wednesday afternoon, services being held at the Meyer home and in the Reformed church at Boalsburg, Rev. Daniel Gress, pastor of the Reformed church at Centre Hall, officiating.

Mrs. Walker was afflicted with cancer during the past two years, but up until Wednesday she was able to take care of her home in Boalsburg At that time she yielded to the pleadings of her brother, and went with him to his home. She was the widow of William Walker, of Huntingdon county, who died about twelve years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church at Boalsburg since her youth, and was well and favorably known to a large circle of friends in Centre county.

She is survived by the following brothers and sisters : J. Henry Meyer, Bowling Green, Virginia ; Mrs. AustinDale, Oak Hall Station ; Prof. P. H. Meyer, Centre Hall ; and Jacob Meyer, Linden Hall.

Newton S. Weaver died at his home in Philadelphia, Friday evening, aged forty-seven years. He had been in poor health for a year or more, and since the beginning of June had been very delicate. The remains were brought to Spring Mills on Monday morning, and interment was made in Georges Valley, Rev. B. F. Bieber officiating.

The deceased was engaged in the restaurant business in Philadelphia, and prior to moving to Philadelphia had been in the grocery business in Williamsport. He was the son of William Weaver, deceased, of Brush Valley. A widow, nee Louisa Breon, survives, together with three children. These brothers and sisters also survive: A. J. Weaver, Tusseyville ; Mrs. James Scholl, Farmers Mills ; John Weaver, Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. H. E. Shreckengast, Farmers Mills.

Mrs. Jean Eliza Brooks died just the day after she had attained the eighty-seventh year of her age, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. J. N. Royer, at Pleasant Gap, on Tuesday morning. Her death was due to the ravishes of time. She was the widow of Richard Brooks, who died about fifteen years ago. Her maiden name was Ralston.

Interment will be made at Zion, services at nine o'clock, Friday morning, Rev. Ebersole, Advent minister, to officiate. She is survived by these children : James R. Brooks, Jasper M. Brooks. Mrs. Rebecca Bilger, Mrs. Lillian Showers, Mrs. Henry Twitmyer, all of Pleasant Gap ; William S. Brooks, Linden Hall ; Lemuel Brooks, Syracuse, New York ; Mrs. Coke Bell, Costesville. She was the grandmother of Richard and J. Cloyd Brooks, of near Centre Hall.

Must Organize Health Boards.

State Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon will send notice to all boroughs in Pennsylvania which have no organized boards of health and provided appropriations for combatting diseases that they must do so without further delay. This action of the commissioner will affect boroughs in every county and has been precipitated by the appearance of typhoid and other diseases in localities where local authorities had not formed boards or been energetic in sanitation. In case of failure to comply with this department the commissioner will invoke the aid of the attorney general's department either by mandamus proceedings to compel organization of boards or action for revocation of charters.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Louisa Weaver takes this method of returning thanks to all those who so kindly gave assistance at the time of the death of her husband, Newton S. Weaver, in Philadelphia, and also at the interment, which took place in Georges Valley.

Aaronsburg.

Merchant P. W. Mensch, wife and daughter Florence are taking in the sights at Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities.

Mrs. Sara Wyle is leaving her many friends to return to her home in Akron, Ohio.

Walter Orwig, wife and two children, Harold and Florence, spent a few days with his parents at Hartleton.

Gilard Eisenhaur and son Clarence, who were employed for four months in Akron, Ohio, came home on Saturday to spend some time with hi family.

Bertha Musser this morning went to Bellefonte to spend some time with friends there.

Mrs. Ellis Meyer, of Coburn, is at the home of George Weaver helping to care for her father, J. C. Stover.

The Potter township schools are closed this week on account of the Grange Encampment and Fair. They will reopen Monday.

LOCALS.

Progress Grange will hold its next regular meeting Saturday evening.

The Centre Hall borough schools will open Monday for a term of eight months.

Mrs. W. P. Hayes, of Watsontown, and Mrs. S. H. Bennison, of Howard, are being entertained by Mrs. J. T. Potter, in Centre Hall.

William H. Matter, tenant on the Green Decker farm in Georges Valley, has decided to quit the farm, and consequently has advertised sale of his farm stock and household goods for Wednesday, November 2nd. It will be an all day sale.

A. B. Homan and family, of Altoona, are at the home of Mr. Homan's mother, Mrs. Emma Homan, in Centre Hall. Mr. Homan is a railroad man, but is taking an enforced vacation on account of not being in good physical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Strohm are back from Philipsburg, New Jersey, where they had been visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Person for several weeks. The Strohms have a host of friends who will be glad to see them back to the old home again.

Mrs. J. Wilson More, better known as Kathryn Harpster, of Missoula, Montana, is in the east, having arrived in Harrisburg a few days ago and with her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) G. H. Widder are attending the fair and visiting among friends in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Foreman and children, of Bellefonte, are in Centre Hall for the week, enjoying the pleasures the Grange Encampment and Fair brings to Centre Hall. They are guests of Mr. Foreman's mother, Mrs. Sarah Foreman, who is now occupying one of the coziest homes in Centre Hall.

The Reporter, this week, is printed earlier than usual so that the office force may have the opportunity to enjoy a short time on Grange Park. As the paper goes to press (Wednesday morning), there is every indication of a big day on the park. Tener, the Republican candidate for governor, and his running mates on the ticket, are expected by ten o'clock. Tomorrow (Thursday) Gibboney and Scully, Keystone party candidates, will be on the ground.

Veteran Club Meeting.

The Centre County Veterans Club held its annual meeting on Grange Park, on Tuesday. The meeting was presided over by Capt. W. H. Fry, vice president, in the absence of the president, Gen. James A. Beaver. There were many short addresses made by veterans from all parts of the county, and the affair was enjoyed very much by both the men who wore the blue during the sixties and the spectators in general.

Who Has It?

A wire stretcher was borrowed from the Reporter's farmer, and has been lost track of. The owner is a firm believer in advertising, and if the tool is in the hands of an honest man, it will be found through the publishing of this item.

Reporter Register.

Mrs. C. F. Kreisher, Mifflinburg
Mrs. J. W. Conley, Centre Hall
Miotte M. Swabb, Erie
Mrs. George Searson and sons, James and Leroy, Linden Hall
W. S. Rossman, Oak Hall
Emma Smith, Bellefonte
D. H. Slegal, Spring Mills
Mrs. N. E. Emerick, Altoona
D. R. Foreman, Bellefonte
Mahlon, Lois, and Paul Foreman, Bellefonte
J. A. Decker, Pine Grove Mills
Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sheffer, Dewart
F. A. Carson, Potters Mills
Nellie Wilkinson, Potters Mills
Mrs. D. L. Kerr, Centre Hall
Mrs. W. W. Rearick and daughter, Berwick
Mrs. D. G. Smith, Elizabeth, Illinois
Vera and Carrie Emerick, Spring Mills
George W. Condo, Jeannette
W. S. Thomas, Loganton
A J. Thomas, Renovo
Albert Foster, Lewistown
James Lawson, Philadelphia
Victor E. Ertenmeyer, Quakertown
Katharine and Ethel Shaffer, Lewistown
Cora Robertson, Philadelphia
John G. Scorer, Philadelphia
D. K. Warfield, Milroy
F. W. and Roy Zettle, Georges Valley
Hobert Barger, Georges Valley
W. H. Matter, Georges Valley
Mrs. Rebecca Cumings, Centre Hall
Peter B. Hodges, Carlisle
J. M. Goodhart, Spring Mills
Anna Ross, Linden Hall
J. E. Kratzer, Lewistown
Anna M. Stover, Altoona
Flora M. Walker, Centre Hall
Anna Henney, Latrobe
John W. Bricker, Wilmerding
Mr and Mrs. E. A. Smith, Philadelphia
Mrs. S. Z. Smith, Spring Mills
Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Lieb, Spring Mills
Mrs. N. S. Weaver, Philadelphia
Clifford Weaver, Philadelphia
Mrs. Lucy Henney, Centre Hall
D. K. Byler, Belleville
A. J. Crotzer, Belleville
James W. Smith, Williamsport
Ruth Smith, Williamsport

Marriage Licenses.

George Harry Wion, Bellefonte
Pearl O. Hoy, Hublersburg

C. P. Long Company offers a special discount on best hard coal for September delivery.

If you are in need of a stove or range, call on J. A. Reesman, at Centre Hall. He has now on hand Red Cross stoves and ranges, and there are none better on the market.

Revised the Bill.

A young solicitor got a verdict for a client of considerable riches, but little beauty. Shortly afterward, in due course of business, he sent her a somewhat formidable account. On the following day his client called on him and asked him if he had been serious in his proposal.

"Proposal? But I have not proposed," replied the solicitor, somewhat aghast.

"What!" replied the fair client calmly. "You have asked for my fortune: I should have supposed that you would at least have had the politeness to take me along with it."

The next day she received a revised account as follows:

"Miss B., debtor to Mr. C. for legal business performed."

Then in place of "£ s. d." was "Total amount, Miss B."—London Telegraph.

What She Imagined.

"Don't imagine," he said after she had refused him, "that I am going away to blow my brains out or drink myself to death."

"No," she replied. "I have no idea that you will do anything of that kind You are going away to do some wonderful thing which will bring you wealth and fame and make me regret all the rest of my life that I didn't believe you when you intimated that you were one of the greatest little men that had ever come over the asphalt."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Never Forgets 'Em.

"Maud is continually giggling. She seems to have an ever present sense of humor."

"Not at all. What she has is simply an ever present consciousness of dimples."—Boston Transcript.

Fashion Note.

"Isn't your hat rather curious in shape?" asked the uninformed man.

"Certainly," answered his wife. "It has to be. Any hat that wasn't curious in shape would look queer."—Washington Star.

A Linen Shower.

Helen—The friends of the bride elect are going to give her a linen shower. Harold—What's a linen shower? Helen—It's a shower in which the rain comes down in sheets.—Exchange.

The Lesson.

Sunday School Teacher—Now, Tommy, what does the story of the prodigal son teach? Tommy—It teaches us how to get fresh veal.—Chicago News.

SALE REGISTER.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, at nine o'clock, by William H. Matter, in Georges Valley, on the Green Decker farm : Three horses, 10 cows, 12 head young cattle, 13 hogs from 100 to 300 lbs., line of farm implements ; also household goods.

WANTED—Cosmopolitan Magazine requires the services of a representative in Centre Hall to look after subscription renewals and to extend circulation by special methods which have proved unusually successful. Salary and commision. Previous experience desirable but not essential. Whole time or spare time. Address, with references. H. C. Campbell, Cosmopolitan Magazine, 1789 Broadway, New York City.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

WAVERLY BRANDS 76 SPECIAL MOTOR

WAVERLY GASOLINE

are the products of more than 30 years' experience. Three brands—

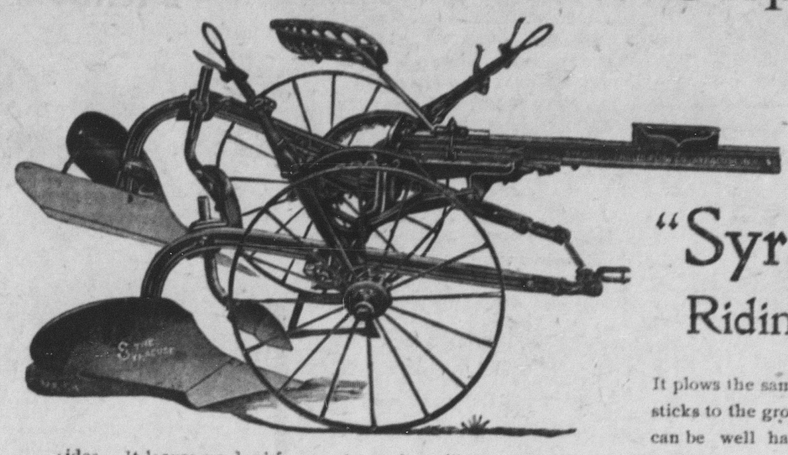
76° — Special — Motor

Power Without Carbon

Waverly gasolines are all refined, distilled and treated—contain no "natural" gasolines, which are crude and unrefined and which carry the maximum of carbon-producing elements.

Waverly Oil Works Co., Pittsburg, Pa.
Independent Refiners
Makers of Waverly Special Auto Oil

There is No Plow Superior



TO THE

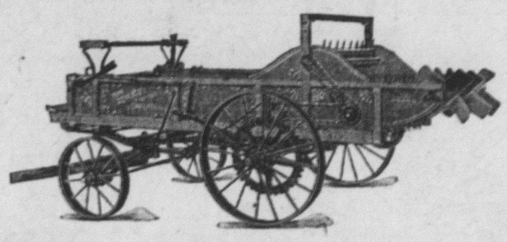
"Syracuse" Riding Plow

It plows the same depth all day long ; sticks to the ground in stormy soil ; can be well handled on rocky hillsides. It leaves no dead furrows to wash ; will throw the soil up hill better than any other plow made ; it is strong enough to do its work, yet not clumsy. It is made for two or three horses.

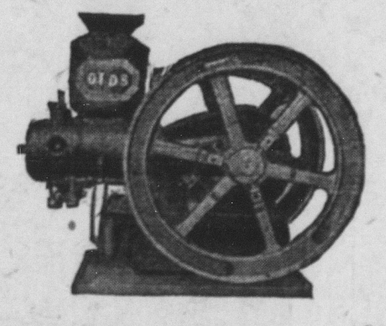
The "New Idea" Manure Spreader

Does its Work To Perfection

There are many of them in use, and every machine is giving satisfaction. The draft is light, yet no other spreader will do the work as well. The wear and tear has been reduced to the minimum in the New Idea.



THE OLDS GASOLINE ENGINES



have many superior qualities. The cut here represents the 4—A Hopper Jacket Engine. From the material that enters into it to the smallest detail, the engine is superior in quality. The Olds Engines are built in all sizes. Ask for a descriptive catalogue.

There is no farm machine or implement that we do not handle.

Heavy Wagons and Buggies

Grass Seed ... Clover Seed ... Alfalfa Seed

J. H. & S. E. WEBER

CENTRE HALL & OAK HALL STATION

GRAIN MARKET.

Rye	70	Wheat, new 90; old	95
Barley	55	Oats	40
		Corn	70

PRODUCE AT STORES.

Lard	18	Butter	25
Potatoes	35	Eggs	22

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE—The undersigned, executor of the late Elizabeth M. Brown, late of Armagh township, Mifflin county, Pennsylvania, will sell,

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8th

at one o'clock, on the premises, the following real estate of said decedant, located in Potter township, Centre county, Pa., about one and three-fourths mile west of Centre Hall, near Gregg station, on the L. & T. R. R., containing 148 ACRES thereon erected a stone dwelling houses, bank barn and other improvements. A well has just been completed which promises to furnish a never failing supply of water. This farm is well located, is productive, and can be made a fine home.

Terms : Ten per cent. on day of sale; one-third less said ten per cent. on delivery of deed; one-third in one year; one-third in two years; said two last payments to be secured by bond and mortgage, to be a first lien on the premises and to bear interest from date of delivery of deed to purchaser.

Cyrus Brungart, Auct. C. ALEXANDER,
N. B. Spangler, Atty Executor, Coburn, Pa.

EXECUTORS' SALE OF REAL ESTATE—The undersigned executors of Amelia Royer, late of Potter township, deceased, will sell at public sale, on the premises,

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1910,
at 1 o'clock p. m.

the following real estate of said decedant, located in Potter twp., Centre county, Pa., about one mile east of Centre Hill.

NO. 1 CONTAINING 106 ACRES and nineteen perches, thereon erected a frame dwelling house, bank barn and other improvements. This farm is very productive, has good water and all kinds of fruit ; about eight acres is timbered with good hemlock.

NO. 2. A tract of timber land, situated on the west end of the mountain known as the Egg Hill, containing 34 ACRES, MORE OR LESS, well covered with timber—rock-oak, chestnut and pine.

Terms for tract No. 1—Ten percent. on day of sale, one-half less said ten percent on delivery of deed ; remainder in one year, said last payment to be secured by bond and mortgage, to be a first lean on the premises and to bear interest from date of delivery of deed to purchaser.

Terms for tract No. 2—Ten percent. on day of sale ; remainder cash when possession is given.

J. F. ROYER,
EDITH ROYER, Executors
Madisonburg, Pa.

ADMINISTRATORS' NOTICE.—Letters of Administration on the estate of James A Keller, late of Potter Twp., deceased, having been duly granted to the undersigned, they would respectfully request all persons knowing themselves indebted to the estate to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same to present them duly authenticated for settlement.

DAVID K. KELLER,
Administrator, CentreHall, Pa.
ANNA M. FISHER,
o,oct6 Administratrix, (Penn Hall) Spring Mills, Pa.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE—LETTERS of administration on the estate of John Wolf, late of the township of Potter, deceased, having been duly granted to the undersigned, she would respectfully request all persons knowing themselves indebted to the estate to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same to present them duly authenticated for settlement.

JENNIE E WOLF,
Administratrix
o,sept Spring Mills, Pa. R F D.

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.—The undersigned announces that he is a practical auctioneer, and is making a specialty of farm stock sales. Six years' experience.

L. F. ROAN,
Lemont, Pa.
Bell 'Phone. (o.Sep.'10

The walls of the court house are to be painted a deep cream, a change from white.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin

SEPTEMBER AT THE SEASHORE

REDUCED FARES ACCOUNT G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

The rolling ocean with its boundless prospect is ever interesting ; but at no time is it more enticing than during the month of September. The bathing is at its best. The sailing is ideal. The salt sea air is charged with increased invigoration, and there is a geniality about it unknown during the torrid days of summer.

Atlantic City, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon, Stone Harbor, Anglesea, Wildwood, Holly Beach, Wildwood Crest, and Cape May are all prepared to entertain with exceptional hospitality all guest who may come. The hotels are less crowded and more comfortable ; the service is better, and in most instances the rates are lower.

The train service of the Pennsylvania Railroad to all these resorts will be found convenient and comprehensive.

Excursion tickets to Atlantic City will be sold at reduced fares on September 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20, on account of the G. A. R. National Encampment, good returning to reach original starting point not later than September 28. For stop-over privileges and extension of return limit, to October 28, consult Ticket Agents.

Unusual enjoyment awaits the September sojouner by the sea.

Ladies' Shoes

LACE BUTTON
AND OXFORDS
The latter in Black and Tan

An especially fine line, and offered at an especially attractive price.

No need to go away from home for Shoes. We have them here and the quality and styles are always O. K. Give us a call.

Kreamer & Son. Centre Hall

POULTRY

AMERICAN BREEDS ARE BEST

Mediterranean Fowls Most Wonderful Family, and Great Credit Due for Their Advancement.

It must be admitted that the so-called Mediterranean fowls are a most wonderful family. Great credit is due the American fancier for having done so much for their advancement. While it is true that the Spanish countries furnished the foundation for all these fowls, the English-speaking nations have perfected them. We made the Leghorns; England the other. But today our Leghorns and Minorcas are by far the best, to our fancy, but the English-bred Anconas and Andalusians are their best.

We pay the most attention to color of shanks, beak, skin, and plumage;

White Leghorn Cock.

they pay the most attention to size, shape and head points. For white they wish absolute white, but some black spots would not bother them as us.

They demand the truest surface color; we draw the line too close on under-color. They are for real beauty as seen; we love to hunt for hidden defects that are only harmful in our imagination as show qualities. We quibble so much about little, harmless things that we often lose sight of the real elegance of quality that may be or has been produced at the loss of some of our imaginary evils that are tucked away among the undercolor.

Head of Minorca Cock.

LEG WEAKNESS IN CHICKENS

Behind Disease There Is Usually to Be Found Story of Overfeeding of Fat Foods.

Behind leg weakness there is usually to be found the history of overfeeding of fat-producing foods. Cases are sometimes seen in flocks where a large quantity of condiments or egg food is given. At the first appearance of the trouble reduce the quantity of the fat-producing foods.

Take away corn, corn meal and condiments. Let them have very little meat. Put the weak birds in a place by themselves. If the fowls are crowded increase the space or get rid of some of the birds. Feed steamed cut clover as a noon meal, whether it be summer or winter.

If you have peas or beans boil and add some to the morning mash. Be sure the drinking water is pure and give the houses extra care to see they are in perfectly sanitary condition.

Rub the chicken's legs with tincture of arnica and add one-half teaspoonful of tincture of nux vomica to each quart of the drinking water.

Be careful not to confound leg weakness with rheumatism. In the latter disease there is a swelling of the joints.

The Brooder-House.

With the modern brooder house, that is heated artificially, I think quite likely as many chicks can be raised under artificial conditions as under natural conditions, says a writer in Baltimore American. My practice has been for some years to hatch the chicks in an incubator, and give them to brooding hens if I happen to have them, rather than to go to the trouble and expense of running the brooder.

Cause of Failures.

One reason why the keeping of a large number of fowls together fails to prove profitable is because those undertaking the business have lacked experience.

WATER TROUGH FOR FOWLS

Convenient Receptacle for Chickens to Drink From Is Necessity on Stock Farms.

On a stock farm, where chickens are being raised, it is important that water is always convenient for them, or they will often drown in attempting to drink from the stock tanks, especially when the water becomes a little low. It is advisable to have water in as many different places as possible, in receptacles convenient for them to drink from. Old fruit cans, either round or square, can be made to answer the purpose of a good watering trough. The tops of the cans should be pounded down, not cut, so as not to injure the fowls' feet should they step over them. Any box that will hold a dozen or more cans, set close together that they cannot be upset, will answer the purpose for a frame. If small chicks have access to the frame, clean stone should be dropped in the cans; then they can easily climb out before drowning.

Chicken Trough.

GIVE CHARCOAL TO POULTRY

One of the Best Stomach Correctives That Can Be Found and Is a Necessity for Chickens.

Charcoal is one of the best stomach correctives that can be given to man or beast and is a necessity for healthful chicken raising. When soft feed in the way of mashes are fed to the fowls, charcoal is very essential, for it corrects any tendency of the food to sour and greatly assists the process of digestion. It has been proven that all poultry will grow and fatten faster and the meat will be more delicious in flavor when charcoal is fed to them regularly; in fact, in all the large fattening plants charcoal is regularly fed to all the fowls in the fattening coops. Charcoal can be purchased at any poultry supply house, but can easily be manufactured at home. If you burn wood in your stove, there will be plenty of charcoal in the ashes to feed a large flock of fowls, if you don't burn wood, take some corn cobs and put in the oven till they are thoroughly charred. Corn and cobs may also be partly charred at times and fed to the hens with profit.

The Farm Poultry.

With the common knowledge of the earning of the farm flocks have come a desire to keep more fowls and make their keeping a special department of the farm operations.

On most farms it will prove better and more economical to allow the poultry free range during favorable weather and fence off the lawn and garden.

The gains made by chickens during the summer are rapid and poultrymen are fast beginning to realize that if they have large healthy birds they must have abundant range during the period when they are growing and developing.

Purifying the Yards.

Frequent rains and excessive heat will cause the yards to be in a very unhealthy condition, unless the surface soil is spaded or turned under in some manner, especially on heavy clay locations. If spading is too laborious, then the yards may be benefitted by sprinkling them with a solution of copperas or blue-stone, dissolving one pound of the mineral in two gallons of water and sprinkling through the nose of an ordinary watering pot. A few spoonfuls of carbolic acid in the solution will also be of an advantage.

POULTRY NOTES

Hot coops mean colds and roup by and by.

Too much sun is as great an evil as too little.

A serious setback in growth is never fully recovered.

It is easy to hold cockerels too long and feed away the profits.

Market everything not making valuable use of every kernel it eats.

If your chicks are ailing and you don't know the reason, look for lice.

One bad egg may lose a customer and puts a question mark on the week's production.

Moulting is a great strain. Give nourishing food. A little iron tonic in the water is good.

Fresh bones from the butcher shop, pounded fine, are superior to the commercial bone meal.

Green food is cheap feed, and hens will lay much better than when kept on an exclusive grain diet.

The profits with poultry are largest when the fowls can eat what would otherwise be thrown away.

Nine-tenths of the young chicks die from being infested with lice and mites. Grease on the head and under the wings is good.

During the very hot weather the chickens get dumpish and lose their appetite. A change of food during this period will help them. See that they have a supply of pure, fresh water

BACKBONE OF THE PIRATES

HONUS WAGNER.

It is not difficult to trace the recent wonderful brace by the Pittsburg champions to the "rounding to" of the veterans on the team. Wagner, Clarke and Leach are unquestionably the backbone of the combination, and while those three stars were out of their stride the club continued in the rut. They are going like mad now, however, and turning the laugh on the critics who declared in midseason that they were all in. It is doubtful if any one of the three ever played better ball than at present, and therein is found the real secret of Pittsburg's spurt toward the top of the ladder.

The work of Wagner, in particular, is the cause of no little enthusiasm. The big fellow is stinging the ball again in the style that made him the batting wonder of the age in his best days. He is comfortably over the .300 mark row now and is still climbing.

DIAMOND GOSSIP

Umpire Colliflower is said to resemble Connie Mack in appearance and actions.

Frank Arellanes has been released by the Red Sox to the Sacramento (Cal.) club.

President Hedges of the St. Louis Americans has released Pitcher Kinsella and Outfielder Fisher to the Denver club of the Western league.

"Red" Faber of the Dubuque (Iowa) team tied Cy Young's record, allowing no hits and no Davenport player to reach first in a nine-inning game.

Tommy Leach handled twenty-two out of twenty-three chances without any hesitation in the recent Brooklyn games. "Tommy the Wee" is playing a grand game in the outfield.

American league fans have practically conceded the pennant to Philadelphia. The slump Boston has taken on it western trip has practically settled the chances of the Beaneaters.

Jimmy McAleer thinks the Athletics will win from the Cubs if they play in the world's series. Manager Jim thinks the Philadelphia pitching staff has a little something on the Cubs' pitchers.

Baker Borton of the Ottumwa Central association team has been signed to play first base for the Brooklyn Nationals. Borton first attracted attention while playing with the Centralia White Sox.

Hugh Jennings does not say it is hard luck that has kept the Tigers down this year, but candidly admits it has been poor playing. Overconfidence was the start of the downfall of the champions.

Latest reports from Addie Joss, the star flinger of the Naps, are that he is improving slowly, but there is little hope that he will be able to pitch again this year. Addie is mowing lawns at his home in Toledo for exercise these days.

Stanley Robison is reported to have bought the Terre Haute club of the Central league. The price paid is said to be $15,000, and the Cardinals will use the new property as a farm to grow big league players for his St. Louis team, where he is in great need of them.

George Cuppy, former Cleveland pitcher, has taken to trap shooting. He is president and captain of the Elkhart (Ind.) Gun club and is the club's best shot. He weighs 200, which is 60 pounds more than when he pitched for Cleveland. He has waxed wealthy as proprietor of a hotel in Logansport, Ind.

SLATE SEYMOUR FOR MINORS

Manager McGraw Will Ask for Waivers on Giants' Former Star Batter and Outfielder.

That "Cy" Seymour has played his last game for the Giants and will be passed to one of the minor leagues is the gist of a statement at Cincinnati the other day by Manager McGraw of that team. McGraw said Seymour is through with major league ball and that he will ask for waivers in a few days and then send him to some minor club. He says that several of the minor league managers have told him they will pay a good price for Seymour to use in the outfield and have asked him to let them know when he is ready to sell the man who was once the leading batter of the league and one of its greatest pitchers and outfielders.

"Cy" Seymour.

First Base Recruit for Chicago.

Ted Anderson, first baseman for Flint in the Southern Michigan league, has been sold to the Chicago White Sox for $1,500, according to an announcement by the Flint management. Anderson will report at the close of the Southern Michigan season.

START OF PITCHER ED WALSH

Spent Much Time While "Warming Bench," Watching Other Pitchers—Got "Near-Balk".

By ED. WALSH.

Whatever success I have had in baseball is due to two things; first, the patience and confidence in me shown by President Comiskey and Manager Jones, and second, hard study and hard work.

When I came into the American league, I was a raw, green fellow, strong and willing, but what I didn't know about baseball would have made good pitchers out of half a dozen fellows if it could be scattered around. From the first both Jones and Comiskey seemed to think that some day I would be a good pitcher, and it was their confidence in me that kept me there. After I got used to the surroundings I settled down to watch what the other pitchers were doing. I had sense enough not to ask many questions, but to keep my eyes and ears open and try to learn all I could. In those days the White Sox had a lot of smart pitchers, men who did things, and who used their heads all the time. Every time I saw one of them pull off something I made a sneak over toward the clubhouse and tried it myself, to see whether or not I could do it. I worked as hard in those days as ever a man worked in a mine or a mill. I was determined I was going to be a pitcher. Comiskey and Jones both coached me, told me what to do, and how to do it, but they could not make me a pitcher. A fellow has to do that for himself. When I began to use the spit ball I worked like a horse. I must have pitched two or three games a day trying to get control and make that ball go where I wanted it to go.

No one ever watched baseball closer than I did. When some good pitcher for a visiting team was working I never lost a chance to crawl as close behind the catcher as possible to see what he was doing, to study how he pitched to certain batters and how he used his curves. I think I spent nearly all of one season trying to get a balk motion that was not a balk, and finally I succeeded. I defy any umpire to say honestly that I balk, and no one can do it without straining the rules.

I was three years, almost, on the bench before I got my chance and when it came I was ready. I was as confident as if I had been pitching all the time. And then, after I had be come a winner, I did not stop, but kept hustling and working and trying to learn more all the time. I knew that a fellow must work and improve steadily, must learn something new or the batters will learn to hit what he has. So I kept at it, and managed to hold up my end.

Ed Walsh.

PLAYERS BRING GOOD MONEY

Six Central League Teams Sell Talent to Big Leagues for the Sum of $25,000.

Six Central league clubs will this year realize about $20,000 to $25,000 from the sale of players to the higher class organizations. Of this amount South Bend has already received $4,000 from Pittsburg for Shortstop McCarthy and Outfielder Carey and expects to secure at least $3,500 more through the sale or drafting of Wells Welschonce, Kroy, Lindsey and Koehler. Next to South Bend, Dayton has the most profitable aggregation, Manager Knoll having disposed of aCtcher Martin to Pittsburg for $1,500 and Shortstop Starke to Brooklyn for $2,000. Knoll also expects to lose Nee and Justus by draft.

Terre Haute has sold Pitchers Hennis and Alberts to the St. Louis Nationals for $1,000 each, and secured another thousand for Outfielder Wheeler, who has joined Cincinnati. Pittsburg is expected to buy First Baseman Sommerlot, or at least, draft him, and an American association club will probably take Third Baseman O'Donnell of the same club.

Evansville has sold Pitcher Covington to Detroit for $1,250, and will get the draft price for Outfielder La June. Fort Wayne expects to lose Pitchers Robertson and Miller by draft and will return First Baseman Gainor to Detroit.

Baseball in Heaven.

"Baseball in heaven" was the subject of a sermon preached recently by Rev. C. Julian Tuthill, pastor of the Congregational church, Mattapoisett, Mass. "Heaven is but an evolution of this world," he said. "A Christian may love a ball game and remain a Christian. Why, then, is it not safe to prophesy that the game will have its place in heaven?"

DIDN'T "GET" THE QUOTATION

Boston Reporter, Unlike Most Newspaper Men, Was Unfamiliar With the Scriptures.

The "cub" reporter is the greenest reporter on the staff of a newspaper. When anything particularly stupid happens on the paper, he is the first to be accused, and he is usually rightly accused. The only salvation for him is to improve, which he does in nine cases out of a dozen. The Boston Journal told recently of an amusing "break" of a wholly innocent nature which a certain cub made. If it shows anything, it shows that a thorough training in the Bible is useful in other walks of life than the ministry.

The reporter had been sent to a suburb to report a sermon. He arrived late, near the close of the service, and took a seat near the door. When the last hymn was over, he asked his neighbor, an elderly gentleman:

"What was the text of the sermon?"

"'Who Art Thou?'" replied the other.

"Boston reporter," replied the other.

The man smiled. Subsequently he told the preacher, who next Sunday told the congregation—at the cub's expense.—Youth's Companion.

A STUNNER.

Secke—Mrs. Swellington is a stunning woman, isn't she?

Weeks—I should think so. She hit me with her automobile the other day, and it was two hours before I woke up.

Unfair.

Senator John H. Bankhead, discussing a political move, said, with a smile:

"Oh, it's too coldly calculated. It's almost unfair. In fact, it's like Mrs. Blank.

"Mrs. Blank is a leader of Bar Harbor society. Her husband said to her, one afternoon, as she made a very elaborate toilet for a garden party that she was giving to some members of the British legation:

"'Why did you write to all your guests that this party was to be absolutely informal?'

Mrs. Blank laughed.

"'So as to be the best-dressed woman present, of course,' she said."

The Enemies.

Apropos of the enmity, now happily buried, that used to exist between Minneapolis and St. Paul, Senator Clapp said at a dinner in the former city:

"I remember an address on careless building that I once heard in Minneapolis.

"'Why,' said the speaker in the course of this address, 'one inhabitant of St. Paul is killed by accident in the streets every 48 hours.'

"A bitter voice from the rear of the hall interrupted:

"'Well, it ain't enough,' it said."

A Fallen Idol.

"What makes you so sure the American public is fickle?"

"The reception a player who used to be on the home team gets when he comes visiting."

Misdirected Energy.

How did the street car company come to fire that old conductor? I thought he had a pull?"

"He did; but he didn't use it on the cash register."—Christian Advocate

There is genius and power in persistence.—Orison Swett Marden.

Brings Cheer

to the breakfast table—

Post Toasties

with cream.

Crisp, golden-brown "crinkly" bits, made from white corn.

A most appetizing, convenient, pleasurable breakfast.

"The Memory Lingers"

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd.
Battle Creek, Mich.

MUNYON'S WITCH HAZEL SOAP

Makes the skin soft as velvet. Improves any complexion. Best shampoo made. Cures most skin eruptions.

Munyon's Hair Invigorator cures dandruff, stops hair from falling out, makes hair grow.

If you have Dyspepsia, or any liver trouble, use Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills. They cure Biliousness, Constipation and drive all impurities from the blood. — MUNYON'S HOMEOPATHIC HOME REMEDY CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

TRY MURINE EYE REMEDY
For Red, Weak, Weary, Watery Eyes and GRANULATED EYELIDS.
Murine Doesn't Smart—Soothes Eye Pain
Druggists Sell Murine Eye Remedy, Liquid, 25c, 50c, $1.00
Murine Eye Salve, in Aseptic Tubes, 25c, $1.00
EYE BOOKS AND ADVICE FREE BY MAIL
Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago

Few Marriages in London.

The marriages of London last year represent the lowest percentage of which there is any record.

For COLDS and GRIP

Hicks' CAPUDINE is the best remedy—relieves the aching and feverishness—cures the Cold and restores normal conditions. It's liquid—effects immediatly. 10c., 25c., and 50c. At drug stores.

Social Debts.

"She telephones me every day."

"What is the reason of that?"

"I owe her a call and she is determined to collect it."

Sprouting Up.

"Don't you think, Mary, you are too old to play with the boys."

"No, mamma; the older I get, the better I like them."—Judge.

A Purist.

"The Chanticleer cocktail is the newest drink."

"Such redundancy! Call it a Chanticleertail."

A Business Transaction.

"So Mr. Penniwise married his typist!" said Miss Cayenne.

"Yes."

"I wonder whether she gains an allowance or he merely saves a salary?"—Washington Star.

Remarkable Young Lady.

From a feuilleton: "Her voice was low and soft; but once again, as Janet Fenn withdrew from the room and closed the door after her, the fiendish gleam came into her odorless eyes."

If we hear any more of Janet we will let you know.—Punch.

Outlining Treatment.

"I want you to take care of my practise while I'm away."

"But, doctor, I have just graduated Have had little experience."

"You don't need it with my fashionable patients. Find out what they have been eating and stop it. Find out where they have been summering and send 'em somewhere else."

Not Impregnable.

Horace Avory, K. C., just appointed a judge, is one of the mordant wits of the British bar. One day cross-examining a recalcitrant witness he asked:

"What are you?"

"A retired gentleman," proudly asserted the ex-cheesemonger.

"Well," snarled Avery, "when you achieved the position of gentleman, why did you retire from it?"

Speaking of Fires.

Roy Bone, a brother of United States District Attorney Harry Bone, several years ago was a reporter on the Wichita Beacon. In going to a fire one of the members of the fire department was thrown from a hose cart and killed. Bone wrote a head, with this as the first deck: "Gone to His Last Fire."

The piece got into the paper and Bone was promptly "fired."—Kansas City Journal.

PRESSED HARD.
Coffee's Weight on Old Age.

When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

A superintendent of public schools in a Southern state says: "My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker, had been troubled with her heart for a number of years and complained of that 'weak all over' feeling and sick stomach.

"Some time ago I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and took dinner with one of the merchants of the place. I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavor of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum. I was so pleased with it that, after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry home with me, and had wife prepare some for the next meal; the whole family liked it so well that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely.

"I had really been at times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach; that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us.

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but in a more marked degree in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

News Stories of the Week Condensed Into Paragraphs.

POLITICAL ECHOES.

Returns from the state primaries in New Hampshire showed the nomination of Bass, the Progressive candidate for governor.

The Republicans carried Vermont in the state election by a decreased plurality, electing the entire state ticket, both members of congress and a majority of the legislature.

United States Senator Robert M. La Follette has swept the state of Wisconsin in the primary election for renomination, defeating his opponent, Samuel A. Cook of Neenah, by from three to five to one.

Indications are that the Republicans elected 64 of the 100 delegates to the New Mexico state constitutional convention.

Early returns show that Senator J. C. Burrows has been defeated for renomination at the Michigan primaries by Congressman Charles E. Townsend of Jackson, who ran as an Insurgent.

WASHINGTON.

Following foreign protests the United States government plans a complete revision of its customs regulations regarding textiles.

The international court of arbitration handed down its award in the Newfoundland fisheries case at The Hague, giving to Great Britain the right to make reasonable regulations for the industry without the consent of the United States.

Urged by President Taft, H. S. Wise, the United States attorney, is hurrying along the suit to dissolve the combination in which is the American Sugar Refining company.

President Taft proclaimed the new treaty with Great Britain defining the boundary line between the United States and Canada through Passamaquoddy bay and the middle of the Grand Manan channel.

PERSONAL.

William Holman Hunt, O. M., D. C. L., the painter and one of the founders of the pre-Raphaelite movement in English art, died in London aged eighty-three.

Ex-President Roosevelt spent a day in Milwaukee. He inspected the city's schools, attended two luncheons and a dinner and addressed two audiences at night.

An ovation was given to Gifford Pinchot by the national conservation congress in St. Paul.

President Taft, back in Beverly, expressed satisfaction with his St. Paul trip.

James J. Hill, in an address in Portland, Ore., said that unless new methods were introduced on the farms the United States would soon cease to be self-supporting so far as food is concerned.

Cardinal Gibbons, in an interview in Baltimore, said that social unrest was largely due to the lack of economy on the part of Americans.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Rev. William T. Hubbard, deposed pastor of the Baptist church of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., called a council of pastors and laymen of churches in his section, and it declared him removed illegally. He now plans a fight in the courts.

Sixteen girls in the industrial home at Middletown, Conn., escaped by breaking a window after they had failed to wrest the keys from the matron. Fourteen of them were recaptured.

The fight of the Eastern trunk lines to raise freight rates, opposed by various shippers' organizations, began in New York before interstate commerce commission representatives.

Five members of the congressional investigating committee at Minneapolis, a majority of those present, voted to condemn Ballinger, but Chairman Nelson refused to accept the verdict as conclusive.

Grahame-White made the first round at the Harvard-Boston aviation meet to win the $10,000 prize for the quickest flight to Boston Light and return twice over, offered by the Boston Globe.

Mayor Gaynor of New York indignantly denied that any one was authorized to boom him for governor. He said the story that he countenanced the attempts to drag him into the political situation was "a lie." He said he was out of politics.

Senator Beveridge argued for federal control of natural resources before the national conservation congress in St. Paul, and J. J. Hill defended state control.

A hurricane caused damage to buildings in San Juan, P. R., tore down trolley and electric light wires and checked railway traffic.

Former Vice President Fairbanks addressed the Mexican war veterans at Indianapolis. It was announced that this would be the last meeting of the national association.

President Taft, on way home from St. Paul, received assurances that he had gained strength in West.

Florence Rumph, aged eighteen, of Bloomfield, N. J., after brooding for a year over her failure to pass with her class into the high school, took carbolic acid.

Mrs. Edward Chapman of Little Neck, L. I., allowed herself to be fatally burned while she put out fire in the clothing of her baby boy.

Governor Crothers of Maryland, who is making a personal investigation of the Baltimore police department, says cocaine dealers have paid thousands of dollars for protection.

Mayor Gaynor of New York was so well that he walked six miles at St. James, L. I., without showing fatigue.

Magistrate Higginbotham of Brooklyn was held on a charge of assault preferred by Miss Mary Hickey, who testified he insulted her in his private office in the Bedford avenue police court, where he presides.

Judge William H. Andrews, a retired member of the New York bar, and his wife's sister, Mrs. Nicoline Neilson, were killed when their automobile turned turtle after going over a stone wall on the Durham road a few miles from Middletown, Conn.

Ex-President Roosevelt in his address before the national conservation congress, in St. Paul, paid a tribute to President Taft on the latter's speech of the day before from the same platform.

A man who fought his way to Theodore Roosevelt and called him a liar gave a bad scare to a group around the former President at Island Park, in Fargo, N. D. Mr. Roosevelt seized the man and helped to eject him from the platform.

President Taft in his St. Paul speech urged maintenance of state rights in dealing with conservation question and new laws to permit leasing of government coal deposits that Pacific coast may get benefit of Alaskan fuel supplies. He admits water power monopoly may be a threatened danger.

The police estimated that about 70,000 men and women took part in the "parade of prosperity" in New York City. There were 40,000 garment workers in line, who thus celebrated the strike they recently won.

Kittie Nice Perle, leading woman playing at the White City at Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester, Mass., and her husband, Louis Perle, musical director of the company, were drowned while out rowing.

The $5,600 booty of the Hudson (N. Y.) highwaymen, who held up and slew Denton Fowler and his colored driver, was found hidden and a clue obtained to the murderers of the paymaster and his driver.

Cardinal Gibbons, in an interview in Baltimore before starting for Montreal to attend the Eucharistic congress, scored the too common lack of economy by the present generation and the desire for too many luxuries and extravagances.

Twenty thousand people saw Frank Coffyn make two flights in a Wright aeroplane at Hartford, Conn. The machine is one of the oldest owned by the Wrights and was used at Atlantic City. The field was inside the Charter Oak racetrack.

The Brazilian line freighter Tapajoz was rammed in the fog fifty miles off Sandy Hook by a three-masted schooner that disappeared in the mist and whose fate is problematical. The freighter returned to New York.

Fire swept through Pratt institute, Brooklyn, causing damage of more than $60,000, and one fireman was overcome by smoke in attempting to remove valuables.

Ex-Governor Hoke Smith was nominated by the Democrats at Atlanta to succeed Gov. Joseph M. Brown, by whom Smith was defeated two years ago. He was also indorsed for President of the United States in 1912.

FOREIGN.

Cardinal Vannutelli, papal legate to the Eucharistic congress at Montreal, received formal welcome from the Quebec and Dominion governments.

Floods threatened the cities of Osaka and Kobe, in Japan, and have caused heavy damages in the northern provinces of Hondo.

English and Continental bankers in London do not favor the American proposal of railroad validation certificates for cotton bills of lading, according to a special cable dispatch.

Lieutenant Helm, of the Twenty-first Nassau regiment of Germany, was arrested at Portsmouth on the charge of being a spy, and remanded to Winchester jail.

Twelve thousand miners employed in the pits of the Cambrian company in Wales decided to go out on strike as the result of a notice given by the company to a few men who have been out eighteen months on a dispute over wages.

Charles Clark, an engineer of Cleveland, Ohio, was robbed in Paris of $960 by a classical confidence game worked upon him by three Americans, chance acquaintances whom he met on the boulevards.

The ministers of foreign affairs and finance, for Brazil, and Senor Claudio Pinilla, for Bolivia, signed a trade treaty.

Mrs. Aimee Saglio, an American woman, reported that she had been robbed of jewelry valued at $20,000 while on a train bound for Lourdes, France.

Vice-President Elias Fernandez Albano, who has been acting president of Chile since the beginning of the illness of President Montt, which resulted fatally, died suddenly of heart disease at Santiago.

Japan formally protested to China against attacks in the Pekin newspapers.

Mr. Dickinson, secretary of war, arrived at Hong Kong. He said he was astonished at the progress noted in the Philippines.

Mr. Humphreys opened the case for the crown against Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve in the Bow street police court, London. He said that poison had been found in the body unearthed in the Crippen home. The charge against Miss Leneve has been changed to one of accessory after the fact.

The striking coal miners at Bilboa and Saragossa, Spain, returned to work.

John B. Moissant, the American aeronaut, reached London, having taken three weeks to make the trip from Paris.

General Estrada, provisional president of Nicaragua, announced that all political prisoners had been released; that he desired foreign capital to develop the country's resources, and that government payments would be suspended until the troops had been paid off.

The murder of a policeman, his wife and 8 children, near Reggio di Calabria, Italy, is ascribed to the vengeance of the Black Hand society of New York.

A PHYSICAL WRECK.
Health Marvelously Restored by Doan's Kidney Pills.

William T. Thomas, 213 So. Franklin St., DuBois, Pa., says: "A physician informed me I had Bright's disease and I was laid up for three months. I had terrible backaches and the passages of the kidney secretions nearly kiled me. I was nervous, had night sweats and could not sleep. In fact, I was a physical wreck. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me prompt relief. Continued use cured me."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box.
Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

INDEED, THEY DO.

"I always try to be a gentleman."

"Some people have pretty hard trials, don't they?"

TINY BABY'S PITIFUL CASE

"Our baby when two months old was suffering with terrible eczema from head to foot, all over her body. The baby looked just like a skinned rabbit. We were unable to put clothes on her. At first it seemed to be a few mattered pimples. They would break the skin and peel off leaving the underneath skin red as though it were scalds. Then a few more pimples would appear and spread all over the body, leaving the baby all raw without skin from head to foot. On top of her head there appeared a heavy scab a quarter of an inch thick. It was awful to see so small a baby look as she did. Imagine! The doctor was afraid to put his hands to the child. We tried several doctors' remedies but all failed.

"Then we decided to try Cuticura. By using the Cuticura Ointment we softened the scab and it came off. Under this, where the real matter was, by washing with the Cuticura Soap and applying the Cuticura Ointment, a new skin soon appeared. We also gave baby four drops of the Cuticura Resolvent three times daily. After three days you could see the baby gaining a little skin which would peel off and heal underneath. Now the baby is four months old. She is a fine picture of a fat little baby and all is well. We only used one cake of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. If people would know what Cuticura is there would be few suffering with eczema. Mrs. Joseph Kossmann, 7 St. John's Place, Ridgewood Heights, N. Y., Apr. 30 and May 4, '09."

"The Wish Is Father to the Thought."

Dr. Robert L. Waggoner, the president of Baldwin university, said, in the course of an address on pedagogy at Berea, O.:

"And one of the most remarkable changes in the last 30 years of teaching is the abolition of corporal punishment. A boy of this generation is never whipped. But a boy of the last generation—well!"

Dr. Waggoner smiled.

"The boys of the last generation," he said, "must have believed that their instructors all had for motto:

"'The swish is father to the taught.'"

Worth Remembering.

"One of the delegates to the convention of the Negro Business Men's league in New York was worth $4,000,000."

"Here's a pointer for the colored brother."

"Let's have it."

"That delegate didn't make his money shooting craps."

TO DRIVE OUT MALARIA AND BUILD UP THE SYSTEM
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking. The formula is plainly printed on every bottle, showing it is simply Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out the malaria and the Iron builds up the system. Sold by all dealers for 30 years. Price 50 cents.

Generosity does not consist in giving money or money's worth. We owe to man higher succours than food and fire. We owe to man, man.—Emerson

For HEADACHE—Hicks' CAPUDINE
Whether from Colds, Heat, Stomach or Nervous Troubles, Capudine will relieve you. It's liquid—pleasant to take—acts immediately. Try it. 10c., 25c., and 50 cents at drug stores.

The only certainty is principle; as new as today, and as old as the universe.—Horatio Stebbens.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

I would say to all: Use your gentlest voice at home.—Elihu Burritt.

PROMISED A LIVELY TIME
Mark Twain's Outline of Editorial Policy He Had Made Up His Mind to Adopt.

Mark Twain took the editorial chair on the Buffalo Express in August, 1869, and this is the paragraph in which he made the readers acquainted with his new responsibility: "I only wish to assure parties having a friendly interest in the prosperity of this journal that I am not going to hurt the paper deliberately and intentionally at any time. I am not going to introduce any startling reform or in any way attempt to make trouble. I am simply going to do my plain, unpretending duty—when I cannot get out of it. I shall work diligently and honestly and faithfully at all times and upon all occasions—when privation and want shall compel me to do so. In writing I shall confine myself to the truth, except when it is attended with inconvenience. I shall witheringly rebuke all forms of crime and misconduct, except when committed by the party inhabiting my own vest. I shall not make use of slang or vulgarity upon any occasion or in any circumstances and shall never use profanity except in discussing house rent and taxes. Indeed, upon second thought, I will not even then, for it is inelegant, un-Christian and degrading. I shall not often meddle with politics, because we have a political editor who is already excellent and only needs a term in the penitentiary to be perfect. I shall not write any poetry unless I conceive a spite against the subscribers.

English in London.

Senator Depew, on the deck of the Lusitania, talked about "English as she is spoken in London."

"It is very difficult to understand that London English," he said. "I know a man who had lodgings all July in Bloomsbury, near the British museum.

"On his return from the museum one afternoon, my friend said to his landlady:

"'Can I have a cup of tea, if you please?'

"'Certainly, sir; at once,' the landlady replied. 'The kettle 'as been bi'lin' for 'ours.'

"'But—er—I prefer freshly boiled water, if you don't mind,' stammered my friend.

"The landlady reddened with anger.

"'Look 'ere,' she said, 'if I 'ad meant wot you mean I'd 'ave said h-ours.'"

No evil dooms us hopelessly except the evil we love and desire to keep in, and make no effort to escape from.—George Eliot.

Faith is not a blind, irrational asset, but an intelligent reception of the truth on adequate grounds.—Charles Hodge.

Not That Meaning.

"The doctor said that Bill was drunk when we took the poor fellow to have his head attended to last night after he fell."

"Doctor never said anything of the kind!"

"Didn't I hear him? Said it was a jagged cut."

Just Like a Girl.

"Her cooking-school habits are a good deal of bother to me."

"How now?"

"She always wants me to taste the gasoline when the authomobile isn't working right."

We reduce life to the pettiness of our daily living; we should exact our living to the grandeur of life.—Phillips Brooks.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa. — "I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that your medicines and kind letters of directions have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D., No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

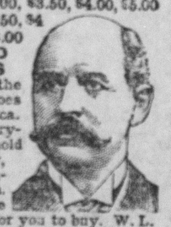
THE Famous Rayo Lamp
Once a Rayo user, always one.

THE STEADY WHITE LIGHT

The Rayo Lamp is a high grade lamp, sold at a low price. There are lamps that cost more, but there is no better lamp made at any price. Constructed of solid brass, nickel plated—easily kept clean; an ornament to any room in any home. There is nothing known to the art of lamp-making that can add to the value of the RAYO lamp as a light-giving device. Every dealer everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY (Incorporated)

W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES
HAND-SEWED PROCESS
MEN'S $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00
WOMEN'S $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4
BOYS' $2.00, $2.50 & $3.00
THE STANDARD FOR 30 YEARS



They are absolutely the most popular and best shoes for the price in America. They are the leaders everywhere because they hold their shape, fit better, look better and wear longer than other makes. They are positively the most economical shoes for you to buy. W. L. Douglas name and the retail price are stamped on the bottom — value guaranteed.
TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE! If your dealer cannot supply you write for Mail Order Catalog.
W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FREE Send postal for Free Package of Paxtine. Better and more economical than liquid antiseptics FOR ALL TOILET USES.

PAXTINE TOILET ANTISEPTIC

Gives one a sweet breath; clean, white, germ-free teeth—antiseptically clean mouth and throat—purifies the breath after smoking—dispels all disagreeable perspiration and body odors—much appreciated by dainty women. A quick remedy for sore eyes and catarrh.

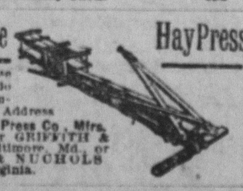
A little Paxtine powder dissolved in a glass of hot water makes a delightful antiseptic solution, possessing extraordinary cleansing, germicidal and healing power, and absolutely harmless. Try a Sample. 50c. a large box at druggists or by mail.
THE PAXTON TOILET CO., BOSTON, MASS.

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good, but I have found the right thing at last. My face was full of pimples and black-heads. After taking Cascarets they all left. I am continuing the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel fine when I rise in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascarets." Fred C. Witten, 76 Elm St., Newark, N. J.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 922

Rapid Fire Hay Press



You will lose money if you do not get our circular and prices. Address Williams Hay Press Co., Mfrs., Macon, Ga., or GRIFFITH & TURNER, Baltimore, Md., or HENNINGS & NICHOLS, Richmond, Virginia.

If afflicted with weak eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water will reduce inflamed, swollen Joints, Bruises, Soft Bunches. Cure Boils, Fistula or any unhealthy sore quickly; pleasant to use; does not blister under bandage or remove the hair, and you can work the horse. $2 per bottle. Horse Book 7 K free.

ABSORBINE
ABSORBINE, JR., for mankind, $1 and $2 per bottle. Reduces Varicose Veins, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Goitre, Wens, Strains, Bruises, stops Pain and Inflammation. Your druggist can supply and give reference. Will tell you more if you write. Manufactured only by
W. F. YOUNG, P. D. F., 228 Temple St., Springfield, Mass.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

DEFIANCE STARCH for starching finest linens.

W. N. U., BALTIMORE, NO. 38-1910.

MICA AXLE GREASE
Keeps the spindle bright and free from grit. Try a box.
Sold by dealers everywhere.
Atlantic Refining Co.
(Incorporated)

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES
Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1910

Harris Township

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Harrison spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of the former's brother, John Harrison, who has been ill for some time at his home at Jersey Shore.

Mrs. Clayton Gettig, of Tusseyville, is staying at the home of Harry Ishler for an indefinite time.

Harry, the little son of Prof. Rothrock, had the misfortune last week of falling off the porch which caused a fracture of the bone in his left arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kreamer and daughter Agnes, of Altoona, are visiting in Boalsburg.

W. K. Corl, of College township, spent Tuesday evening of last week at Boalsburg.

Paul Rupp has gone to Mercersburg academy to prepare for college, and John W. Weber is attending the Lock Haven Normal School. Both boys are graduates of the Boalsburg high school, and will continue their studies at the above named institutions.

Mrs. Ida Sullivan, of Bellefonte, visited at the home of her niece, Mrs. H. S. Harro, during the past week.

Amos Koch and family, of the Boalsburg hotel, are tenting at the Grange Encampment.

Will Cramer, of College township, spent Sunday at the Ira Rishel home.

Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk with her little daughter, Dorothy Meyer, of Glen Iron, spent Wednesday at Boalsburg where she attended the Stuart-Mothersbaugh wedding, and made a few hasty calls among her companions.

Miss Alida Rothrock, who was elected as teacher of the Dale school in College township, opened the school on Monday.

Prof. Edward H. Myers and family, who spent the summer at Boalsburg, returned to their home at McKeesport last Thursday where he is engaged in teaching in the high school.

Mrs. Maria Wagner, of Tusseyville, spent Friday in Boalsburg.

Murray Leitzell, of Sunbury, spent Saturday at the Calvin Wieland home.

Rev. A. A. Black, of Derry, who officiated at the Stuart-Mothersbaugh wedding spent a short time in Boalsburg calling on some of his former members.

The Knights of Malta at Boalsburg had an installation of officers on Friday evening. District Deputy Spangler, of Tyrone, was the installing officer.

A. E. Rupp departed on Saturday for a week's visit with friends at Mont Alto, Chambersburg, Harrisburg and Mercersburg.

LOCALS.

Miss Pearl Garbrick, of Zion, daughter of Al. Garbrick, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kreamer, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Sarah Kerlin, Mrs. A. E. Kerlin and Mrs. S. W. Smith, all of Centre Hall, attended the Lutheran Missionary convention at State College last week.

Chambers O. Templeton, of Tyrone, who a short time ago resigned as a candidate for reelection to the state senate, was placed under arrest, charged with forgery and misrepresentation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sheffer, of Dewart, are in town for the week. Mr. Sheffer is engaged in the manufacture of ice cream, and poultry shipping. He is planning the erection of of an ice plant and storage house, so that he can better handle his product.

Several weeks ago mention was made of a very large yield of oats harvested by W. P. Catherman, of near Millheim, but the figures were indefinite. Mr. Catherman now states that one and one-fourth acres were sown, and that the yield was at the rate of ninety-five bushels per acre.

Mrs. Hiram Guthrie, of Summerfield, Jefferson county, accompanied by her little son, are guests for the week of Mrs. Rose Dewoody, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bartholomew. Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. Dewoody became friends when they engaged in school teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rearick and Mrs. W. R Winegardner, of Milroy, and I. Y. Moyer, of Cleveland, Ohio, came to Centre Hall on Friday in the former's automobile. Mrs. Winegardner came to visit her mother, Mrs. Mary Goodhart, who has not been in good health for several weeks.

Mrs. Smith, wife of Dr. D. G. Smith, of Elizabeth, Illinois, is in the east and is the guest of her sisters, in and about Centre Hall. Mrs. Smith will probably be better remembered as Miss Emma Heckman, although Dr. Smith, a native of Gregg township, is also well known hereabouts.

Messrs. Mingle and Boozer constructed a concrete vault to receive the remains of Mrs. George M. Boal. The gentleman have been considering the matter of purchasing a collapsible form to facilitate speedy and faultless construction for some time, and finally have fully decided to do so. The vault, long used in the cities and larger towns, is becoming popular in rural sections, and now since concrete is so extensively used there is little doubt but that these vaults will hereafter become common in this section.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

SALE REGISTER.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, nine o'clock, on the premises near Rebersburg, real estate of Joseph K. Moyer. See posters and adv. in this issue.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, at twelve o'clock, on the Moyer homestead at Centre Mills, near Rebersburg, a large quantity of personal property of the late Joseph K. Moyer. See posters.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, at one o'clock, on the premises, near Centre Hill, the real estate of the late Amelia Royer. See posters and adv. in this issue.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 25, one o'clock, on the premises, near Wolfs Store, by Dr. G. W. Hosterman, of Centre Hall: A farm of 164 acres, brick house and lot, and two tracts of timber land. Property is fully described in this issue.

EXECUTORS' SALE OF REAL ESTATE—The undersigned, executors of Joseph K. Moyer, late of Milestownship, deceased, will sell at public sale

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1910,
at nine o'clock a. m.

on the John Wolf farm, one and one-half miles west of Rebersburg, the same being one of the tracts to be sold, the following described nine tracts of real estate, all located in Miles township, Centre county, Pa.

NO. 1—THE JOHN WOLF FARM, CONTAINING ONE-HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-TWO ACRES and fifty-one perches, all clear, also ten acres or more of wood land, located one and one-half miles west of Rebersburg, bounded and described as follows: On the north by the public road, on the west by lands of Joseph Bierly, on the south by lands of the deceased, on the east by lands of T. E. Royer and Elias Brown, thereon erected a large two story frame dwelling house, in good repair, also outbuildings and a large bank barn in good condition. There is never failing flowing water at both house and barn. There is also a good young apple orchard and other fruit on the farm. This is one of the most desirable farms in Miles township and is very productive.

NO. 2—THE KLECKNER FARM, CONTAINING ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY ACRES, more or less, of which about seventy acres are in a fine state of cultivation, and the remainder is well timbered with whitepine, chestnut and oak, located one mile west of Smullton and joins tract No. 1. There is erected on this farm a good dwelling house, bank barn, and all necessary outbuildings, all in good repair. There is running water on the premises; one of the best young apple orchards in the valley, now bearing a splendid crop.

NO. 3—FINE TIMBER LAND, CONTAINING EIGHT ACRES and twenty perches, and is known as the Joseph Gramley timber tract, located in the Gap south of H. A. Detwiler. This tract is timbered with choice hemlock and some white pine, and is one of the best tracts of timber in the valley, and easy of access, a road passing through it.

NO. 4—EMANUEL HARTER TIMBER TRACT, CONTAINING EIGHT ACRES and one hundred and twenty-four perches, located in the Schroyer Gap, north of Emanuel Harter farm. This tract is well timbered with second growth of chestnut, rock oak, and yellow pine; also, easy of access being along public road

NO. 5—TIMBER LAND, CONTAINING FIFTY-SIX ACRES and one hundred and seventeen perches, located in the narrows on the knob on the west side of the pike, extending north as far as the Eby farm. On this tract there is hemlock, yellow pine, rock oak, etc.

NO. 6—HAFER MOUNTAIN LAND, CONTAINING FIFTY ACRES, located on the mountain south of the Philip Gramley Gap, bounded by tract No. 6, Philip Gramley and others. There is much young growing timber on this tract.

NO. 7—55 ACRES MOUNTAIN LAND, located near tract No. 6, and is known as the Henry W. Gramley tract.

NO. 8—100 ACRES MOUNTAIN LAND, located near No. 7, known as the John Bressler lands.

NO. 9—SMULL MOUNTAIN LAND, containing twenty-four acres and fifty-eight perches, known as the east third of the Smull mountain trac, located east of Detwiler Gap. Terms: Ten percent. on day of sale one-half less said ten percent. on delivery of deed; remainder in one year; said last payment to be secured by bond and mortgage, to be a first lean on the premises and to bear interest from date of delivery of deed; to purchaser.

J. N. MOYER,
H. B. MOYER,
J. K. MOYER, Jr.,
Executors.

Rebersburg, Pa.

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE—The undersigned will offer at public sale on TUESDAY, OCTOBER, 25, 1910.

at one o'clock p. m.

one-third mile east of Wolf's Store, in Miles township, Centre county, on tract No. 1, the following described real estate:

NO 1—FARM OF 164 ACRES, 135 of which are clear and the remainder is covered with young timber. There is a two story frame dwelling house, all necessary outbuildings, large bank barn, implement shed, smith shop and wood shop, corn crib, etc., all in good repair. The farm is clear of stone and rubbish, is well fenced, and is in a high state of cultivation, the soil being sand and limestone loam.

NO. 2—Brick House and one-half acre of land—This tract adjoins No. 1 and is located along public road. The house is two story, large and convenient, and it as well as the out buildings are in good condition.

NO. 3—46 ACRES WOOD LAND AND PASTURE LAND—This tract adjoins No. 1 directly on the south. There is good young timber on this tract. A stream of water passes through it, making it an ideal pasture lot.

NO. 4—30 ACRES WOODLAND—This tract is known as the George B. Weaver tract, and has a lot of good young chestnut and second growth pine on it.

These several tracts will be sold singly or one or more or all combined to suit the purchasers.

Terms—five percent. cash on day of sale; balance on April 1st, 1911, when deed will be delivered.

For further particulars write or call on
G. W. HOSTERMAN,
Centre Hall, Pa.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. By taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets you can improve both. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

6 LIGHTNING SHOTS

That's what you get if you use the Stevens Repeating Shotgun No. 520.

The repeating action is so simple that you can work it with only your thumb and finger.

No matter how fast you pump this gun you cannot possibly bind or clog it.

The empty and the loaded shells travel by two separate routes. There is no chance for them to meet and jam.

If your dealer hasn't it, we will send, express prepaid, on receipt of List Price, $27.00.

Points for the Sharpshooter, Hunter and Trapshooter

Write us and tell us what kind of shooting you are most interested in and we will write a letter of advice with many valuable pointers for the Hunter and Sharpshooter. We will give you short cuts to expert marksmanship, which will not only make you a better shot than you already are but will cut down your ammunition bills as well.

LIST PRICE $27

J. STEVENS ARMS & TOOL CO.
DEPT. S.
The Factory of Precision
Chicopee Falls, Mass.

The Cough of Consumption

Your doctor will tell you that fresh air and good food are the real cures for consumption. But often the cough is very hard. Hence, we suggest that you ask your doctor about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It controls the tickling, quiets the cough.

Ayer's

We publish our formulas
We banish alcohol from our medicines
We urge you to consult your doctor

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile, and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following. Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance. Dose, one pill at bedtime.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass

Chance For Reporter Readers.

In order to test the Reporter's great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with Murray & Bitner, the popular druggists, to offer one of their best selling medicines at half price to anyone who will cut out the following coupon and present it at their store.

COUPON

This coupon entitles the holder to one 50c. package of Dr Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price, 25c. I will refund the money to any dissatisfied customer.

MURRAY & BITNER.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not an unknown remedy. It has made many remarkable cures right here in Centre Hall and so positive are Druggists Murray and Bitner of its great superiority in curing dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache and liver troubles that they will, in addition to selling it at half price, refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

Read the Reporter.

Friends and Customers:

JUST RECEIVED

Ladies' Lace and Embroidered Collars,
Hair Puffs, Switches,
Turban Caps, Hair Rolls
All silk Taffeta Ribbon, No. 40 & 60, at 10 cts. per yd., while it lasts.

For this Week Only:

25 Per Cent. Off on all White SHIRT WAISTS

H. F. ROSSMAN
Spring Mills - - - Penn.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE—In the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County. Estate of Clyde Stamm, Insolvent.

All creditors are hereby notified that the Court has appointed J. K. Johnston an auditor to audit, settle and adjust my account as Receiver of the estate of Clyde Stamm, an insolvent, and make distribution among the creditors of said estate, and that a meeting for that purpose will be held at No. 5 E. High Street, Bellefonte Borough, Pa., on Friday, September 23, 1910, at ten o'clock, a. m. when and where you may be heard if you so desire.

o.sep22 JAMES W. SWABB, Receiver,
Linden Hall, Pa.

PIPE

Both Iron and Lead Water Pipe. . . .
Pumps and Repairs

MAKE YOUR WANTS KNOWN TO

J. S. ROWE
CENTRE HALL - - - PA.

Look at our line of New

SHOES FOR SUMMER

Ladies' & Misses' Oxfords
Patent Leather Oxfords
Rus. Calf Blucher Oxfords
Men's Heavy Work Shoes
Boys' Vici Bluchers
We have a complete line of Common Sense Shoes for Women and elderly Ladies; the most comfortable shoes on the market.

F. E. Wieland
General Store
LINDEN HALL, PA.

THE Red Mill

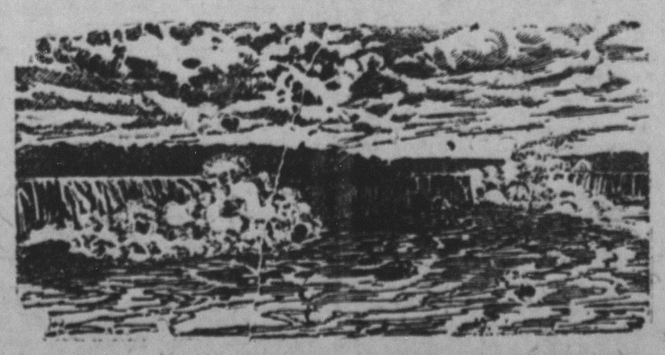
ALBERT BRADFORD
Proprietor

Did You Get Yours?

SILVER SPOON FREE!
—With—
"Veri Best" FLOUR

A Coupon in Every Sack
SAVE THEM

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
PERSONALLY-CONDUCTED EXCURSIONS



Niagara Falls

September 21, October 5, 1910

Round-Trip Rate $7.50 FROM CENTRE HALL

SPECIAL TRAIN of Pullman Parlor Cars, Dining Car, and Day Coaches running via the

PICTURESQUE SUSQUEHANNA VALLEY ROUTE

Tickets good going on Special Train and connecting trains, and good returning on regular train within FIFTEEN DAYS. Stop-off within limit allowed at Buffalo returning

Illustrated Booklet and full information may be obtained from Ticket Agents

J. R. WOOD
Passenger Traffic Manager

GEO. W. BOYD
General Passenger Agent

MONTGOMERY & CO'S
END OF SEASON

REDUCTIONS

50c Neckwear -	35c or 3 for $1
$2.50 & $2.00 Pajamas -	$1.50
$10.00 Suits - - - -	$6.67
$12.00 Suits - - -	$8.00
$15.00 Suits - -	$10.00
$18.00 Suits - - -	$12.00
$20.00 Suits - -	$13.34
$25.00 Suits - - -	$16.67

Waist Coats, Straw Hats, 1-2 Price
Belts—Motor Coats—Motor Gloves

Montgomery & Co.
BELLEFONTE

EMERY'S STORE

The Place to Buy the BEST GOODS at the LOWEST PRICES

See our line of Men's and Women's Patent Leather and Gun Metal SHOES Can't be beat for Price and Quality

$2.25

A Large Stock of Dry Goods, Notions & Hosiery

Meats and Lard—will be here fresh for Picnic

Parties camping on the Park grounds will find us well supplied with Fresh Groceries at the Lowest Prices for Cash.

C. F. EMERY
CENTRE HALL, - - PENN'A

A Full Line of Dry Goods of all kinds. Ladies' Dress Goods suitable for wear at this season.

Shoes—Oxford Ties for the Ladies, and Shoes for everybody.

Our Grocery line complete nothing omitted. Goods are fresh and of the best grades.

W. H. STUART
BOALSBURG, PA.

BOALSBURG TAVERN

BOALSBURG, PA.
AMOS KOCH, PROPRIETOR

This well-known hostelry is prepared to accommodate all travelers. 'Bus to and from all trains stopping at Oak Hall Station. Every effort is made to accommodate the traveling public. Livery attached.

Pure Candy

All Candy sold to Retail Dealers by the Camp Candy Company, Manufacturing Confectioners, Tyrone, Pa., are NOT ADULTERATED IN ANY FORM, are strictly pure and are guaranteed to conform with all Pure Food Laws.

CAMP CANDY CO.
Manufacturers
Jan. 1 TYRONE, PENN'A

Pianos and Organs.

The Lester pianos are used and endorsed by all the leading musical conservatories and colleges in the U. S.

The Stevens piano organs are the latest achievement in modern organ construction.

Pianos and organs sold on easy payment plan. Write for catalog.

C. E. ZEIGLER, Spring Mills

DR. SOL. M. NISSLEY,

VETERINARY SURGEON.

A graduate of the University of Penn'a Office at Palace Livery Stable, Bellefonte, Pa. Both phones.

oct.1.09 1yr.

"Steven's" Double Barrel Hammerless Shotgun for Sale. This gun is practically new, having been used but two seasons. Guaranteed all right in every respect. Will be sold at a Bargain. Apply at the office of

THE CENTRE REPORTER